Study here will link lung ailments with cause, remedy

Sherlock Holmes in the computer era. Detective work combining medical skills with electron microscopy. A five-year task costing "five or six figures." A unique blend of expertise and experience blazing a new trail in the field of health.

All of these elements and many more are part of a study formally launched here this week with the cooperation of St. Elizabeth Hospital and area universities and industries.

Points to be explored include whether local cigarette smokers greatly increase their industrial-area vulnerability to lung ailments, what kinds and sizes of pollution particles affect individual health, and whether air purity rules can be fine-tuned to guard against the specific factors that cause illness.

Participants in the state-assisted study will be the two St. Elizabeth pathologists, Dr. Joseph Koop and Dr. James Spindler; Dr. Ray Narconis, St. Louis University assistant professor, and Dr. Steve Hall, SIUE biochemist who has analyzed some of the elements of the new study during past research in south St. Louis.

All of them recognize that lungs are healthier in rural areas than in cities, and that air pollution has been a problem "ever since a family built the first fire inside a cave," they commented in a detailed interview Tuesday.

"They said their approach is not to perform a 'hatchet job' on the local community, as was inferred in a distorted television report this week, but to do the scientific chores necessary to use a precise "rifle rather than shotgun" against known problems, in order to find sources and solutions. Critical of such past "shotgun" campaigns as the "hysterical" condemnation of auto exhaust, leading to catalytic converters that decrease car efficiency while perhaps worsening rather than bettering air quality, the

Election competition

Opposition for aldermanic seats in all seven Granite City wards in next year's April 3 election appeared certain today in a flurry of activity by candidates to get nominating petitions signed in advance of next week's opening of the filing period.

What is expected to be a bitter fight for the post of city street superintendent, the only office other than the aldermanic seats that is open to election next April, also appeared to be shaping up.

Petitions were reported in circulation today by Lionel Portell, incumbent street superintendent, and by James Stack, also a city employee.

Stack carries the title of assistant street superintendent, but he does not work in Portell's street department due to differences that developed between the two shortly after Stack was appointed to the assistant's job by Mayor Paul Schuler early in 1976.

Both men picked up nominating

50-year Illinois Power franchise

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

Despite efforts by a single alderman to block immediate action, the Granite City Council Tuesday night cleared the way for establishment and development of a 427-acre tract northwest of the city as an industrial park.

In a series of fast-moving developments, the council

1. Concurred in a 3-point City Plan Commission recommendation that the tract owned by Illinois Power Co. be annexed to the city and that it be rezoned for heavy industrial use.

2. Approved a lengthy "annexation agreement" containing a series of covenants and guidelines for construction within the park area.

3. Enacted an ordinance creating an M-3 (heavy industry) zoning category which the city did not have previously. The new zoning category encompasses the same regulations as the M-3 zoning category maintained by Madison County.

4. Approved an ordinance for a new franchise for the utility, to run for 50 years from the date of approval of the annexation agreement. The power company requested the extension of the present ordinance as one of its terms in developing the industrial complex. It makes no change in the terms of the existing ordinance which it replaces.

The Tuesday night council action paves the way for presentation of the annexation ordinance which the aldermen expect to receive in its meeting Tuesday, Dec. 26.

The annexation agreement, a procedure required preliminary to action annexation of the property, was challenged in at least four sections by Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward who urged the aldermen not to act upon the agreement to that meeting so that some changes could be negotiated.

But Second-Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer told Douglas that details of the agreement had been outlined in full in several meetings between the council members and utility officials, that a public hearing had been held, as well as a City Plan Commission hearing, and that attorneys for the utility had met individually with the aldermen to learn if they had any questions.

"Now that we are all ready to vote on it, there is a question about it," Whitmer said. "I believe we should act on it now."

Aldermen Ronald Coleman and Clyde Boyd joined Whitmer in urging there should be no delay. It was noted that the additional tax base provided by addition of the property to the city could become effective immediately after the

Daniels alderman in Venice

Phillip Daniels, 27, of 202 Abbott St., Venice, was named during the regular Venice City Council meeting Tuesday night as alderman of Ward One, to serve until the April 1979 city election.

The vacancy developed two weeks ago when Thomas Voegelé, then alderman of Ward One, resigned because he is moving out of the city.

The council concurred in the appointment after it was made by Mayor William Ebersold.

Daniels was reared in Venice and attended Venice grade school.

He graduated from Assumption High School and received a bachelors degree in psychology from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He taught political science at Venice High School for three years.

Daniels has been active in Scouting, serving as aquatic director at Camp Sunnen for three summers, and as an associate advisor of Explorer Post 10-4.

He has been a Venice volunteer fireman six years.

"I want to thank the council for appointing me. I am interested in our community," Daniels said. "In teaching political science I became more and more interested in doing something constructive for the entire city and in particular the ward in which I live. Working together, I feel Venice has a bright future. I am going to do my part because I believe in Venice."

In addition to Daniels, aldermen whose terms expire next April are George Mangiaracino of Ward Two, George Lewis of Ward Three, and Oscar King of Ward Four.

Boundary changes will affect Chouteau

Problems associated with the co-extensive township law, under which the township's boundary changes along with the Granite City municipal boundary, were cited Monday night by Chouteau Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks in a statement to the Chouteau Township Board of Trustees and all Chouteau citizens.

Discussing a 427-acre industrial park proposal at Illinois Route Three and Chain of Rocks Road, Sparks said:

"The request of Illinois Power Co. and Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. to annex part of their property into the City of Granite City and Granite City Township is of grave concern to me.

"These are only a few of the reasons why I believe we all should study the effects of this on our people who own property in Chouteau Township.

"(1) Granite City, being a co-extensive city-town with Granite City Township, will remove the property from Chouteau Township and add it to Granite City Township, thereby lowering the assessed valuation of our township, which could very well cause a raise in the tax rate for the property owners in Chouteau Township.

"(2) By the annexation of this property, Granite City will be moved to

Half-hour for final drink

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

The Madison County Board voted Wednesday to allow the 110 taverns in the unincorporated areas of the county to stay open a half hour longer each night for patrons to finish their drinks. The new amendment to the county's liquor control ordinance specifies that liquor can only be served until 2 a.m. on days other than Sundays and until 3 a.m. on Sundays, but patrons may then stay another half-hour to finish their drinks.

Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant was on record prior to the board's consideration of the amendment as opposing the change in hours.

Board Member Rodger Elble of Wood River spoke on behalf of the new sheriff, saying that the amendment was presented "only because we now have a sheriff who is enforcing these hours, and I support his efforts.

"This will only produce more drunks weaving down the streets in the early morning hours, making the deputies' work harder," Elble contended.

Board Member Herbert "Junior" Milton of Granite City, who presented the ordinance, said, "We are not trying

FIRE AT LEADERS

Heavy smoke and fire damage was done Sunday afternoon to the Leaders Department Store, 3705 Nameoki Road. Firemen responded with three fire companies at 1:05 p.m. and were at the scene for nearly four hours. The fire is believed to have started in a rear storage area and spread to an upper level balcony. Cause and amount of damage is unknown. A spokesman for the fire department said there was heavy smoke and fire damage to the contents of the building. One fireman received a slight burn on an arm, but did not require hospital treatment. Firemen had difficulty getting to the fire due to steel doors that had to be knocked down to gain entrance. A fire department spokesman said this is the second fire in the same area within a week. The building is owned by Henry Ross. Irwin Strauss is president of the Leader Department stores.

Annexation

first of the year if those documents presented Tuesday night were enacted immediately.

The land tract involved in the annexation procedure is southwest of old Highway 66 and Route 3, has a link on the north to former Highway 66 (Chain of Rocks Road) and is connected on the south with the city boundary line. It is east of the Chain of Rocks Canal and immediately west of Highway 3.

Illinois Power Co. officials have undertaken preparation of the site for industrial use because of a mounting number of inquiries for sizeable tracts of industrial property and because of the benefits that would come to the area through location of one or more major industries at the industrial park.

While Walter "Dick" Sparks and Harold Davis, supervisors of Chouteau and Nameoki Townships in which the property is located, protested at the City Plan Commission hearing that annexation of the land to Granite City would take away parts of their townships and result in a tax loss, no objections to the council action were voiced by residents of either township at the council session Tuesday night. About ten persons who were in the audience apparently were interested in the proposal and remained in the audience through council consideration of the annexation agreement and rezoning matters. They did not request permission to address the council and left the meeting after voting on the issues was completed.

All aldermen remarked during the discussion that the annexation and proposed development of an industrial complex is something the city has needed for years and that its benefits should be limitless.

The annexation agreement establishes guidelines for construction within the industrial park, provides that incoming industry would build all streets and drainage and sewage connections and would abide by all city building, electrical and plumbing codes.

It also sets up a new scale of building permit fees scaling down the cost as the value of building increases. Existing fees call for payment of $2 for each $1,000 of building value.

As Ordinance Chairman Roy Poulos moved to suspend the rules to place the annexation agreement on final passage, Douglas took the floor to challenge at least four sections of the agreement.

Douglas noted that flood plains building requirements should be set out in the agreement, that the new scale of building permit fees was too small to pay inspection costs on a large building project, and that a number of industrial uses provided by the M-3 zoning should not be listed in the agreement, particularly since utility officials have said that certain types of industries of high pollutant nature would not be built in the complex.

The alderman also objected to a section of the agreement that provides that in the event the city should violate any terms of the agreement, the utility company could disconnect from the city. Douglas said he believed that should provide for recourse to the courts in event of a violation.

Douglas contended that under the new sliding scale of permit fees, the cost of inspection on a million-dollar plant would amount "to about $300," and that he believed the cost of inspection for a million-dollar plant would be far in excess of that.

Leo Konzen, attorney for Illinois Power, told the council that the fee schedule "was at your discretion," and said that if there were any objections to the fees, a new schedule would be discussed with city officials by utility representatives.

Konzen also noted that he had talked with Douglas concerning his questions about flood plains building requirements and that such a reference had been inserted in the agreement.

Alderman Warren Decatur asked Konzen if the company would be willing to wait another week, but Konzen noted that everything was ready to be approved and that waiting would only delay the entire procedure.

Everett Morlen, alderman of Ward One, said he thought the argument about permit fees was of no consequence.

"There are some places that don't even pay permit fees," he said.

Whitmer then noted, "This should go tonight," a remark in which other council members concurred.

On a roll call vote to suspend the rules for final passage of the annexation agreement, with 13 of the 14 aldermen present, Douglas voted "no" and the other 12 voted in favor. On the final passage vote that followed, however, Douglas changed his vote to yes, resulting in a unanimous vote in favor of final adoption of the agreement. Alderman Earl Baker was the only alderman absent.

On the ordinance providing the M-3 heavy industry zoning classification, Douglas again spoke against some of the industries permitted under that category, and again voted "no" on the motion to suspend the rules. He repeated his "no" vote on the final passage vote on that ordinance, with the measure carrying 12 to 1.

A motion to suspend the rules for final passage of the new franchise ordinance carried unanimously, as did the subsequent motion for final adoption.

Election

petitions forms at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens this week.

The filing period for the Granite City municipal election will open Tuesday, Dec. 26, and will continue through Jan. 29.

Elections also will be held next April 17 for election of four aldermen and a mayor in Venice, five aldermen in Madison and three village board trustees, a board president and village clerk in Pontoon Beach.

The filing period for those elections will open Jan. 8 and continue through Feb. 13, with candidates filing nominating petitions with their respective clerks.

Two park board members are to be elected by the Venice Park District and two commissioners are to be elected by the Granite City Park District, in balloting that will be held in conjunction with the municipal voting.

As the Granite City filing period approached, petition forms had been obtained this week by incumbent aldermen whose terms expire in six of the seven wards. The exception is Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward who has announced he will not seek re-election in the 1979 balloting. In addition, petitions also were obtained by potential candidates in opposition to all of the incumbents. Two men are circulating petitions as candidates for the Ward Three seat that will be vacated by Boyd.

Ward One Alderman Everett Morlen, 2606 East 24th St., is circulating petitions as a candidate for re-election, while Harvey Scarsdale, 2408 Nameoki Road, also has obtained petitions to run as an aldermanic candidate in that ward.

Incumbent Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2321 State St., is seeking re-election, while Joseph McGinness Sr., 2605 Washington Ave., has obtained petitions to run as a candidate in the same ward.

There are two aldermen in each of the city's seven wards, one of which is elected every two years to four-year terms.

In Ward Three, Willard Herzog, 2304 Hodges Ave., and Paul Fisk, 2323 E. 25th St., have taken out petitions as candidates for the aldermanic seat in that ward.

Warren Decatur, incumbent alderman of Ward Four, also is seeking re-election. Petitions have been obtained in that ward election by Foster "Freddie" Frederick, 2028 Logan Ave. who is expected to run against Decatur. Mrs. Margaret Nonn, 2711 Cayuga St., widow of the late Walter Nonn, is seeking re-election as alderman of Ward Five. She was elected two years ago to fill out the term of her late husband and will be seeking a full, four-year term in the balloting next April.

Petitions also have been obtained by Darmon Broyles, 1915 Benton St., as a candidate for alderman in that ward. Gerald Parmley, incumbent alderman of Ward Six also will be seeking re-election, while Rose Halbrook, of 3222 Edgewood Ave., has obtained petition forms as a candidate to seek that seat.

A possible three-way race already has developed in Ward Seven where Alderman Ronald Coleman, 2445 Woodlawn Ave., is a candidate for re-election. Petitions as candidates for the same seat have been obtained from Steven's office by Leo J. Six, 2206 Woodlawn Ave., and Mike E. Modrusic, 2036 Pontoon Road.

While a number of political fights appear to be shaping up in the aldermanic races, political observers expect a battle for the street superintendent's job between Portell and Slack would bring into play the full political force aligned with Mayor Paul Schuler and those of the "Get Granite Going" group, an organization that opposes Schuler and of which Portell is a member.

The Venice Park District will elect two board members in an election to be held on April 3, the same day as Granite City municipal election. The term of the Rev. John Ratcliff who was appointed to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Pete Ponce when he moved out of the city, expires next spring, requiring election of a commissioner to that seat for a full six-year term.

In addition, an election is required to fill the term of former board member Dale Crawford which is now held by the resignation of Calvin Ratcliff. Four years of the term remains.

Other members of the Venice board, who do not run are Joan Silas, Valeta Bauder and Mary F. Bauder.

Two regular terms expire next year on the Granite City Park Board, those of Jake Hintzner, now board president, and Robert Patrick. Those who will remain on the board are Barry Loman, Jeff Worthen and George Sykes.

Customarily the Granite City Park Board election is held on the third Tuesday of April - April 17 next year - but a park official said new state election laws are being examined to determine if the optional date of the first or third Tuesday still remains or whether a specific date may be mandated.

Expect HUD to OK commitment on port bonds

A commitment by Henges Co. New York bond broker, to buy a $1.5 million Tri-City Regional Port Authority bond issue is expected to be approved by the Housing and Urban Development Agency at Washington this week in support of a request by the Port Authority for a $350,000 Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG).

The proposed bond issue would be used to finance construction of a warehouse and office complex as the first structure within the Foreign Trade Zone 31. The UDAG grant is being sought to finance improvement of the land area, including grading, fencing, landscaping and drainage.

Carl Ranft, manager of the port, said that a commitment by Roosevelt Federal Savings and Loan of St. Louis to handle the bond issue has been rejected by HUD because the commitment offered to take up only 75 percent of the bond issue. He said HUD requires assurances of a bond sale as a factor in its consideration of the UDAG grant request.

Port officials, however, are questioning the likelihood of selling the bonds at the present 8 percent interest ceiling set by state law. State Senator Sam Vadalabene has said he will introduce legislation to raise the interest maximum.

Ranft said he is certain the best possible rate the district could obtain on today's bond market is 8.5 percent.

The warehouse-office complex to be built within the trade zone would be leased, with payments applied toward retirement of the bonds. The Port District and Truck Transportation, Inc., will be renting space in the facility.

Following the music program, home-baked cakes and ice cream and punch were served by the committee members.

Ladies from the Sodality attending included the above named and Mesdames Frances Bury, Vivian Byer, Irene Davis, Agnes Friedel, Ida Grogg, Thelma Judy, Nora King, Anne Pare and Mrs. Evelyn Yenchio, president.

The program consisted of Mrs. Jane Kozielek at the piano, playing Christmas carols. Members of the Ladies Sodality and residents joined in the singalong.

Slump seen in 1979 last half

A panel of experts commenting on rising food costs put the blame on inflation and generally agreed the economy could experience an economic slowdown or mild recession in the second half of 1979. The panel spoke to newsmen at the annual meeting of the Illinois Farm Bureau last week in Chicago.

Farm Bureau market analyst Jim Gill said consumers will spend about $207 billion for farm products this year, up 11 percent from last year, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures. Higher marketing costs will account for about 50 percent of this rise, Gill said, and the situation is not expected to improve much in 1979.

Dale Butz, executive director of the Farm Bureau's Commodities Division, said food prices will rise more than the 6-10 percent predicted by the USDA. Butz thinks the figure fails to give enough consideration to the influences of inflation increases — in transportation costs, processing, wholesaling and retailing — on food prices.

Ted Tung, vice president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, told newsmen he could see no recession in the first half of next year and that an economic slowdown or mild recession later in the year is likely but avoidable. Tung pointed early December's improved value of the dollar abroad and a reduced trade imbalance.

Leo J. Shapiro, public opinion analyst, said the public is in general sympathy with farmers. Most feel high food prices are a result of "middleman" costs.

"We won't get all we wanted for agriculture, but we are hopeful of meaningful gains," that's what Turner Oylo, assistant administrator of commodity programs for the Foreign Agricultural Service, told a combined meeting of the Land of Lincoln Soybean Association and the Illinois Corn Growers Association, held in conjunction with the IFB meeting.

Speaking on the status of multilateral trade negotiations in Geneva, Oylo said the U.S. is at an impasse with the European Community but that it has made progress with Japan, its largest market. The negotiations began five years ago with 100 countries and are slated to end this month.

Oylo said U.S. soybean producers have demonstrated they "can compete with anybody" when the competition is fair, but that a proliferation of trade impediments — and rising protectionist sentiment in the rest of the world — signaled a need for the present negotiations early in this decade.

"Farmers should guard against gambling with their grain and livestock crops during this period when efforts are being made to bolster the dollar, curb inflation, and generally get a tighter grip on the economy."

That recommendation came from Gill, director of market analysis for the IFB, when he addressed a marketing and commodities session.

Raising the possibility of a recession late next year, Gill said the U.S. economy is now in the "squeeze phase" of an ongoing cycle which he refers to as "accordion economics."

As the presidential election year approaches, efforts are made to stimulate the economy by those in political power. Then, between elections, clamps are put on the economy to prevent it from expanding too rapidly, he said.

During the current

"squeeze phase," grain producers must guard against being too optimistic for the future, Gill said. He urged producers to sell a higher portion of their grain inventories in the first part of the year, instead of gambling that higher prices will be in the offing later.

During the coming year, Dial-a-Story will include stories adapted from books in the library's collection and some commercially-produced selections in addition to selections by local authors.

After copyright approval is granted, adapted stories are recorded by local actors and library staff. Each weekly story will be geared to a different age group and will try to develop interest in reading library materials and reading readiness.

Anyone may call the telephone number 876-6316 24-hours a day to hear one of these three-minute stories in the library's collection and some commercially-produced selections in addition to selections by local authors.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

VIRGINIA O'HANLON

FRANCIS P. CHURCH

In the fall of 1897 eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon, confused by conversations with her classmates searched for the truth to the question, "Is there a Santa Claus?" She wrote to the editor of the New York Sun seeking an answer that she could believe.

The editorial reply by Francis Church must surely be one of the most famous editorials in American journalism. It appeared in the heart of the editorial page on Tuesday, September 21, 1897.

Virginia's letter challenged the newspaper to deal with those mean souls who would declare the ultimate foolishness, "No Santa Claus."

Virginia's letter

Dear Editor:

I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in The Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?

Visit Santa Claus In Our Lobby
Friday, December 22nd

Wishing you and yours a Merry Christmas.

THE GRANITE CITY TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK

Editorial reply by Francis Church

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be that is not comprehensible by their little minds.

All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy.

Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias.

There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We would have an enjoyment, except in the sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys to catch Santa Claus on Christmas Eve, but even if they did see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus.

Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn. Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.

You may tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else so real and so lasting.

No Santa Claus! Think God lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, my test times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Disabled veterans ID cards

For the first time in its history, the Veterans Administration will issue personal identification cards to more than two million service-disabled veterans to emphasize their top priority in obtaining treatment at VA medical centers and outpatient clinics.

The move was ordered by VA Administrator Max Cleland, who said, "Veterans disabled in the military service are of prime concern to the VA. These identification cards will expedite the medical care they receive."

"The cards will serve as a constant reminder to our employees, as well as to veterans themselves, that they are special people entitled to special care from their government."

In a letter to 2,225,000 veterans receiving VA monthly compensation, checks for service-connected disabilities, Cleland explained the priority system and enclosed an application blank which veterans are to return to obtain the cards.

The cards, with bold markings "Priority" and "Service-Connected" in a purple design, will alert staff members in VA facilities that bearers are entitled to special attention.

Veterans needing treatment for conditions not suffered in service may get a VA medical card if they can't afford to go elsewhere and if VA facilities are available.

Cleland said the new identification system does not remove the need to make appointments for examination or treatment at VA medical centers.

"Making and keeping appointments is still important to veterans seeking health care from the VA. Appointments assure that records are available, that staff is ready, and that treatment is given."

Eligible for the cards in addition to those Cleland wrote are another 500,000 veterans with service-connected disabilities for which they are not now being compensated. They won't be contacted by VA but may call the nearest regional office or medical center for information.

Cleland said the only time a service-connected patient does not get priority attention is when that patient is in emergency for another patient.

Housing authority selects director

Bert Hampton, 35, Belleville, has been offered the position of executive director of the Madison County Housing Authority on a 3-2 vote of the authority's board of commissioners.

Hampton, who is in charge of developing new housing projects for the St. Clair County Housing Authority, was selected over the acting director of the Madison County Authority, Jack Bridwell.

Bridwell, who holds the official title of assistant director, has been acting executive director since September, when the board refused to renew the contract of Edward Foley of Venice after some board members indicated they did not feel he was communicating enough with the commissioners.

At the end of the meeting, Hampton said he is seriously considering the offer, but is concerned over the salary of $21,526, since he currently earns $20,400 and would have to move to Madison County to take the position.

The salary has to be approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

At the end of the meeting, Hampton accused Kastin, who is board chairman, of attempting to give orders to authority employees in violation of the board's by-laws which require directives by the full board.

Bridwell agreed there is dissension and distrust among staff members who fear Kastin and feel they are being "bawled out," even when they do things correctly.

Kastin said he became concerned when he was informed the authority's checks were "bouncing" at the bank and felt some leadership was needed.

Hoskin proposed a motion directing Kastin to follow board by-laws and policies, which passed with Hoskin and Mary Jane Davis voting in favor. Jun abstained, saying he does not have a copy of the by-laws, and May abstained, saying he felt the motion unnecessary, since all board members should follow the by-laws.

Kastin, as board chairman, did not vote since the chairman votes only in case of a tie.

$1,040 theft from yard

Items valued at about $1,040 were stolen from 12 tractor-trailers in the lot of Paul Seebold Concrete Co., 22nd Street and the railroad tracks near Adams Street, it was reported at 1:35 p.m. Monday.

Boy Scouts take day-long hike

Boy Scout Troop Five from Nameoki United Methodist Church took a day-long hike on the Beaumont Reservation and cooked their lunch along the trail during the weekend.

Scouts making the hike were Bob McClell, Christ Roberts, Eric Wilson, Alan Goode, Eric Wofford, Rick Hill, Tom Keelin, Caleb Miller, and Chuck Shane, senior patrol leader.

Adults accompanying the scouts were Scoutmaster Pat Busch, Assistant Scoutmaster Charles White and Committee Member Ralph Wilson.

Taken were 20 chains and 20 chain binders. Gasoline caps also were removed from two trucks and it is believed gasoline was taken. Seebold named a youth who allegedly had been implicated in recent thefts from the yard and police located the youth and searched his truck and van. A chain and garden hose were found in the truck and two gasoline cans and hoses were found in the van.

The youth, 18-years old, was released, however, when Seebold said he could not positively identify the chain as one from his trucks.

Scott probe—real or a fishing expedition?

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau
What's going to happen to Bill Scott? That's the question being increasingly asked as the federal investigation into the financial affairs of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott heads into its second year.

There is no doubt that someone is going to be hurt in the long, drawn-out investigation unprecedented in Illinois public affairs.

But will it be Scott or those who seem intent on tearing him down?

If the Scott case comes to nothing after months of gumshoeing by a small army of Justice Department investigators and the spending of hundreds of thousands of federal dollars, somebody is going to have to answer.

If Scott should go scot-free it might well mean the early firing of U.S. Attorney Thomas P. Sullivan, the first Democrat to fill the post since the era of now Gov. James R. Thompson and his top assistant, Sam Skinner.

The office made history under Thompson, who sent big-name politicians off to the slammer like GIs in a chow line.

It was Thompson's conviction of the late Gov. Otto Kerner that propelled him into the political big time.

Since taking over the office, Sullivan has had a legal won-and-loss record about matching that of the unfortunate Chicago Bears.

There is a feeling of the Illinois political front that he has dug himself in so deep on the Scott matter that, unless he comes up with something substantial, he is likely to be involuntarily returned to private practice.

The interminable wrangling in the Scott case is proving an embarrassment to Sullivan's political sponsor, no less than U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, who seems to be upset about a number of things these days.

There are those who believe that a big fiasco in the Scott affair would be a factor in a possible Stevenson decision not to seek re-election in 1980.

One can surmise that President Carter may be wondering about a person Stevenson recommended for so important a post who has spent so much time and money in so prominent a case and still has nothing tangible to show for it.

There is, of course, ample evidence that the Illinois public buys Scott's contention that he is being cruelly harassed for political reasons and has done nothing wrong.

His November reelection by another landslide margin was resounding confirmation that the voters in this state trust their attorney general and are unimpressed by the Justice Department's seemingly endless investigation.

So prolonged has been the investigation that, even if the government does achieve a grand jury indictment on some charge or other, the public is likely to dismiss it, like the investigation, as just another political ploy.

An indictment is one thing and a conviction is another. Judging from the length of time the government has spent investigating Scott, the any trial would doubtless also be of long duration. And by the time it were over about everyone in Illinois would be bored stiff.

Because of the long investigation and the vast amount of personal and state records already subpoenaed, the grand jury should know by now whether Scott has indeed, as the government supposedly is seeking to determine, misused campaign funds and failed to pay the required income tax.

To a skeptical public it looks more and more like the Democratic controlled federal bureaucracy is off on a grand scale fishing expedition, with the aim, of topping one of the state's most popular vote-getters of all time.

The Scott case is also unique in Illinois political history in that it involves a high-ranking elected official still in state government.

Kerner and former Gov. William G. Stratton were tried in federal court after leaving office.

Kerner was convicted of income tax evasion, conspiracy and mail fraud in connection with a racing stock scandal that occurred during his second term.

Stratton was acquitted of charges of income tax evasion, which the government charged occurred during his second term.

The Scott situation is also unique because, as attorney general, he is the state's top law enforcement official.

He is generally credited with operating a highly efficient and effective office, a record especially impressive considering the amount of time he has had to spend in his own legal defense.

Because of Scott's sensitive political position, the citizens of this state have a right to expect that the federal government would act as promptly as possible in either bringing formal charges against him or publicly clearing his name.

Voters of Illinois have four times elected him as their attorney general. They have a right to expect that the U.S. government let him do his job.

The showdown in the Scott case can't be delayed much longer. Somebody's head is certainly ailing and it may not necessarily be Bill Scott's.

Social security assistance
A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Ashmore Recreation Hall, 2908 Edwards St., on the second and fourth Tuesdays during the next three months to help senior citizens apply for Medicare and help with any social security problems they may be experiencing.

The representative will be at the recreation hall beginning at 9:30 a.m. on Jan. 9 and 23, Feb. 13 and 27, and March 13 and 27.

Persons approaching the age of 65 are urged to apply for Medicare two to three months before their 65th birthday, whether or not they have retired from their jobs.

Additional information on the Medicare eligibility or Social Security will be available from the representative or may be obtained by calling 274-4180.

Christmas Eve at Trinity Methodist

Candlelight Christmas Eve worship will be at 9 p.m. at Trinity United Methodist Church, E. 25th and Henry streets, this Sunday. The congregation will sing Christmas Carols, Pastor Paul Bryant will bring a sermonette, speaking as the "keeper of Bethlehem the night of our Savior's birth. The Stepping Stones" will present the cantata "King of Love," accompanied by trax recording of horns, drums, and violins.

There will also be time during the hour service for a candlelight ceremony for all attending. "The Stepping Stones" have sung in many churches in the Granite City and Southern Illinois area as well as in Northern Illinois. This vicarious group of teens and young adults stir the congregation wherever they sing, and move hearts. You will understand the meaning of Christmas because of this service, Rev. Bryant added.

St. John Lutheran yule services

Christmas eve will be celebrated at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, with a Children's program and worship service at 6 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 24th. The program that will be followed is an Augsburg Publishing House (of Minneapolis) production, called Joy To The World, by Katharine Weller.

Children of the Sunday School will enter the church in processional and will speak fitting Christmas verses and the congregation and children will sing traditional Christmas hymns heralding the Savior's birth. Leading the smallest children in song and verse will be Mrs. Georgia Lottner, with Miss Debbi Gebhardt at the organ. Organist for the full service will be Mrs. June Barton, of St. Louis. The pastor will open the evening with a Christmas message. The Sunday School staff and superintendents trained the children.

Young people of the church's confirmation classes will portray the Nativity in fitting costumes, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Potter.

On Christmas day, the congregation will assemble at 10 a.m. for the festival of our Lord's birth celebration. The pastor will deliver a message on the Christmas Gospel for the day. Organist will again be Mrs. June Barton with Luther S. Boda serving as festival trumpeter. Assisting in the chancel will be Seminarian Donn Wilson.

The congregation will close the present year with a New Year's eve service at 7 p.m. with holy communion. The following morning, a New Year's day service will open the new year at 10 a.m. through worship, praise, and intercession.

The congregation will also participate in the church bloodmobile program, Dec. 26-28th, 2-7 p.m. each day. Members of the church will assist on Thursday; many others will be donating the gift of life — blood.

On the weekend before Christmas, members of the congregation will prepare 18 Christmas baskets for the needy of our area. These are to be picked up at the church this Saturday, Dec. 23, between 10 a.m. and 12 noon. Names of such families were secured from the Salvation Army's office.

All of the services noted above are open to the public, and an invitation is hereby extended to all, Rev. Samuel Boda, pastor added.

St. Bartholomew's Christmas services

A Solemn Mass of the Nativity will mark the beginning of the Christmas services at St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, 22nd Street and Grand Avenue, according to the Rev. Wilbur Lear, pastor.

The solemn midnight mass, which is traditionally a candlelight service, will begin at 11 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 24, with Rev. Lear, rector of the parish, as celebrant and preacher.

Father Lear will be assisted by Steven A. Gaumer, Frank E. Bowden, Steven F. Blatz, William L. Sabo, and Donald Goble.

Mrs. Kevin Nicol will preside at the organ and will present for special music the Choral Prelude: Jesu in Suss, O Jesulein Milde by Scheidt, J. S. Bach's Now Sing We, Now Rejoice, a Christmas Pastorele: on the sick and shunning by Murray and Gruber, Angels We Have Heard On High by Gehrk, and The Star

Proclaims the King Is Here by Johann Pachelbel.

The liturgical music will be that of the Merbecke Missa Simplex.

On Christmas day a simple low mass will be celebrated at 10:45 a.m. without either music or sermon. On St. Stephens Day, Dec. 26, Matins and Holy Eucharist will be conducted at 9 a.m., and on Friday, Dec. 29, the Feast of St. Thomas of Canterbury, Matins and Holy Eucharist will be offered at 9 a.m.

Christmas confessions will be heard on Saturday, Dec. 23, from 3:30 p.m. in the church.

On Thursday, Dec. 28, a Christmas party will be held for all children in the parish Sunday School, beginning with a special cartoon festival at 7 p.m. Father Lear added that Christmas communions will be taken at the sick and shunning at anytime during Christmas week by appointment.

Christmas at Concordia Lutheran

Concordia Lutheran Church, 2301 Grand Ave., will worship and praise the Christ child this Christmas in three special services, twice on Christmas Eve and again on Christmas day, the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer announced.

The children's Christmas eve service under the direction of Concordia's education leader, Mrs. Sylvia Mueller, will be at 7 Sunday evening. Through recitation and song the children will develop the theme "God's Christmas Gifts."

At 11, Christmas eve, the Midnight Christ-Mass celebration will begin. Under the subdued Christmas lighting and led by the congregation's youth and choir the congregation will begin worshipping with a processional past the manger where they will deposit their Wiseman offerings.

Dan Hunicutt will sing "O Holy Night." With guitar and flute he and choir leader, Mrs. Sylvia Mueller, will reproduce the very first rendering of "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Both sacraments, baptism and holy communion, will be celebrated in this service; candidates for baptism are Orville Copeland, Karen Gorbey and Hita Grant. Elder Richard Kienle will assist in the celebration of the Eucharist. "Behold the children will develop the theme "God's Christmas Gifts," will be the theme of the pastor, Rev. Twietmeyer.

The Christmas festival service, Monday morning at 9, will be a carol service leading up to the celebration of Christmas communion. Mrs. Sylvia Mueller is the organist and choir director for these services. "All our friends are invited to these services," the pastor added.

Christmas Eve play at new City Temple

An original Christmas play, entitled "A Strange New World," will be presented at the new City Temple Assembly of God Church, 4751 Maryville Road, at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Christmas Eve presentation was written by Chuck Adams, who also is producing and directing the play.

Highlighting the performance will be special scenery, and the costumes will focus upon the ancient world and the "now" world of today, Adams said.

The Rev. A. E. Cope, pastor, said everyone is welcome to attend the Yuletide service and other programs at the church.

Bethesda Temple's Christmas program

A color film, entitled "Holy Night," will highlight Bethesda Temple's Christmas program schedule at 7:30 p.m. today at the church, 22nd and State streets, it was announced this week by the Rev. Charles Browning.

Refreshments will be served in the fellowship hall after the movie by women of the church.

The film depicts the birth of Our Lord and is very inspirational to all age levels, the pastor said.

On Christmas Eve morning, Sunday, recitations and songs will be presented by church school classes and Christmas treats will be distributed.

A regular worship service with the pastor bringing the message will take place Sunday evening at 7:30.

A Watch Night service is scheduled New Year's Eve, Dec. 31, starting at 7:30. Local speakers and singers will be featured.

All residents of the community are invited to Bethesda Temple's Yuletide programs, the Rev. Browning said.

Nameoki Methodist worship services

The Rev. Dr. Max L. Martin announced Sunday services for Nameoki United Methodist Church, Pontion Road at Primrose Avenue, are to open at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 24, with Sunday School.

This will be followed by the 10:45 a.m. morning worship service, which will feature the "Live Nativity Scene" and the "March to the Manger" which will close this special Christmas worship.

At 10:30 p.m. members will have the opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Holy Communion, and at 11 p.m. there will be a Service of Candles and Carols.

Ebersoldt to quit as mayor on Jan. 1

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice announced to the Venice City Council Tuesday evening that his resignation as mayor will become effective Jan. 1.

"After 24 years, it is time to retire," he said. "I have enjoyed my association with all of you. I will be around to help whoever is chosen."

The mayor is under medical orders to cut back on his activities.

City Attorney Harry Hartman advised the council that it could call a special election before April 17 to fill the unexpired term of mayor, or hold the election for mayor along with the regular April balloting.

No official action was taken Tuesday, but the council expressed its intention to choose a new mayor during the April 17 election.

In the meantime the vacancy will be filled by one of the aldermen serving as acting mayor until the election. The pro-tem mayor will be selected by the council.

Bernard Hogan, a Venice resident, has been circulating petitions to draft Mrs. Margaret Lee into running for Mayor.

Hogan said he obtained 150 signatures in support of the draft in two days.

Mrs. Lee said Wednesday morning: "I am not going to run. I am concerned and very interested in the welfare of Venice, but I am not a candidate. Mr. Hogan advised me of the draft petition drive and I asked him to cease."

Mrs. Lee is the wife of the late Dr. John E. Lee Jr., longtime mayor of Venice. She lives in Venice and is an officer of the First National Bank in Madison.

Ebersoldt, who intends to remain partially active in the political scene, was chosen as city clerk when Clerk Walter R. Caylor died in October 1974.

Ebersoldt held the clerk's position until being elected mayor in April 1974 following the death of Mayor Lee. He was re-elected mayor in April 1977.

Woman hurt on Route 3

A woman motorist was injured at 12:25 p.m. Tuesday, when her auto and a garbage truck, owned by United Disposal of St. Louis, collided on Route 3 at West Pontoon Road.

Taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital was Mrs. Martha Ebrecht, 3029 E. 27th St., who bumped the left side of her forehead, suffered neck pains and bruises to an arm. She was transferred to Lutheran Hospital, St. Louis. Driver of the truck was Gregory R. Ribando of St. Louis.

TRANSFERRED HERE
Edward Abney, 49, of 3008 Kirkpatrick Homes, was transferred Monday from Wood River Township Hospital to St. Elizabeth Hospital after he was struck during a fight. He suffered a temporary loss of consciousness and abrasions to his head. He was admitted to the local hospital.

COULD THIS HAPPEN HERE? Yes, it could! The Missouri-Illinois Regional Red Cross Blood Program, sole supplier of 144 hospitals in the Southern Illinois and Eastern Missouri, dropped 15,000 pints below will sponsor a blood drive Dec. 26, 27 and 28 from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. All residents are being urged to take part.

3-day blood drive

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
"You donate blood to use when you're healthy and your body can spare it. We give it back when you're sick or injured and your body is fighting for life."

This is a promise of the Red Cross Blood Program, a program that has just one purpose: to fill community needs for blood.

To keep this pledge, the Red Cross needs blood and needs it now. "You, the individual, are the only answer to this need," the program sponsors state loud and clear.

Church Women United will answer this call for help by sponsoring a blood donor drive for all residents of the Quad-City area Tuesday, Dec. 26, Wednesday, Dec. 27 and Thursday, Dec. 28.

Donors are asked to come to St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Pontoon and Johnson roads, between 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. next week on any of the designated three days.

Anyone wishing to make an appointment may call 452-7184, or further information may be obtained by calling the same number between 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Christmas time. It's no holiday when you need blood. Unfortunately, it seems the worst traffic accidents, the most tragic fires and many other countless disasters occur around the holiday season.

At the same time, blood donations usually decline, again because of the holidays.

Everyone is too busy; too filled with the rush of shopping, entertaining guests, going to holiday parties, or visiting relatives and friends to worry about taking the time to donate blood.

Christmas is a "crisis time" because there is always a blood shortage. In addition to fewer donors at this time of the year, bad weather frequently interferes with those willing to give the very special gift of blood.

"If enough people don't give, the supplies drop and we may not be able to meet the constant demand," the Red Cross Blood Program administrators say.

"Will we ever run out of blood? We hope not, but it's really up to you," they stress.

"This past year we dropped 15,000 projected pints."

Many hospitals, Illinois Regional Blood Service, blood just to stay.

Blood cannot be artificially manufactured. It has to come from people care enough to give.

You don't have to give to get.

The Red Cross meets everyone's needs with no strings attached. The only cost is for the collection, distribution and administration of blood.

It doesn't take long to give a gift of precious blood. Give and let live is the timely slogan for Christmas 1978.

"We need blood. Now," the Red Cross said. "And you are the only answer."

"Care enough to share. It's a matter of life or death."

New phone book errors

By MICK STRANGE

Press-Record Staff Writer
The new Illinois Telephone directory, currently being distributed has numerous errors in both the white and yellow pages.

Wayne Scannell, president of the Madison Business Association (MBA) has called a special meeting of the MBA for 8 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 27, at the Madison Memorial Center, to discuss what Scannell calls a "deplorable situation."

The meeting will be open to the public. Scannell said he personally has found 45 Madison businesses incorrectly listed in the new telephone book.

Scannell said he has two yellow-page listings for his clothing store in Madison. One lists the store in Granite City and the other lists the store in Madison. His store in the white pages is incorrectly listed as Granite City, he said.

"The only thing I feel the telephone company can do, should do and must do to avoid legal action is to reprint the entire book," Scannell said.

The errors apparently are not limited to the Madison and Venice area.

Ernie Joel Vaughn reported he lives at 2810 Roosevelt Ave., Granite City. It is listed in the new telephone directory as 2810 Roosevelt Drive, Madison. Kenneth L. Evers, commercial manager for Illinois Bell in Granite City, said, "This is the first time we have tried to put in community identifications. We are not sure just why all the errors. It is difficult to tell at this point just how serious the errors are or how best to correct them."

"We have been in contact with Ruben H. Donnelly who prints our yellow pages. We are studying the problem to determine the magnitude. What corrective steps will be taken, I cannot say at this time."

PEOPLE

Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Christ, and the people at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, have created a living depiction of the meaning of Christmas.

Each year since 1972, church members have recreated the nativity scene on their church lawn. Many churches do this, but not in the same way. At Niedringhaus United Methodist, the characters are portrayed by people rather than statues. The "living nativity" is quite an undertaking, according to the Rev. William H. Mathae, pastor. "It takes 118 people to provide the scene," he said.

"We rotate the entire cast every 30 minutes so no one will get uncomfortable out there in the cold. There are four shifts during each of the three evenings that the scene is presented."

Being a part of the nativity is a lot of fun for the church members. They enjoy the fellowship of other members as well as a good feeling at being involved in such a project.

According to Eula Davis, assistant to Dolores Vogler, chairman of the nativity committee, preparing for the three nights is enjoyable but a lot of work.

Ladies of the church made the costumes for all of the characters. The costumes are made of heavy, warm materials to ward off the cold," she said. "There are two complete sets of costumes so that one group can be getting ready while the other group is outside."

The roughly-hewn wood manger and a separate animal pen were built by some of the men of the church. A platform stands behind the manger where a lovely angel stands, overlooking the scene.

The pen holds live animals, provided through the years by local residents. The animals are often family pets, but they are goats and cows rather than dogs or cats.

There have been times when someone has complained about the fact that the animals were out in the cold. Rev. Mathae said he had checked with the owners and had been assured that — given a bed of straw and food and water — the goats and cows would be fine. "They are endowed by nature in such a way that they are quite comfortable out of doors," he said.

There is no movement in the "living nativity," with the possible exception of a little shuffling of the feet to keep warm, and the milling around of the animals.

There are no lines to learn, no mistakes to make, and that makes the idea of being involved in the project all the more appealing to the people who volunteer to play the roles.

Whole families participate in the nativity. The Nelson family of Granite City is one of those families.

Mrs. Karen Nelson is playing the part of Mary and said that although this was the first time she was going to be a part of the nativity, she was sure that it was going to be enjoyable.

"I am glad there is no snow this year," she said. "That will make it a little nicer, and maybe a little warmer."

Mrs. Nelson's daughters, Tracy, 11, and Alisa, 8, also have roles in the nativity. Alisa, who is going to be an angel, said she thought an angel was a neat thing to be. Tracy, who will portray a shepherd, said she hopes she will be able to stand still.

For most of the years that the nativity scene has been done, the church lawn has been the setting for the manger. In 1976, it was taken to the Crossroads Shopping Center. One year, it had to be cancelled because of heavy snow.

The "living nativity" is done for people. And there have been times when three generations of the same family have been involved.

The United Methodist Women's Circle provides hot chocolate, coffee and cookies for the participants and everyone has a good time.

People who come to see the scene also enjoy themselves. There is beautiful music for the ears and the meaning of Christmas for the eyes. There are live animals for children to pet, and love.

Everyone who sees the "living nativity" comes away a little happier, a bit more knowledgeable and a little more ready to celebrate the holiday.

You still have time to experience the "living nativity" yourself. The cast will take its places this evening for the last time this season. It will take place between 7 and 9 o'clock at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th and Delmar.

GC man arrested twice in disturbances at city hall

Otis G. Venable, 26, of 2000 Thirteenth St., was arrested twice Monday for alleged attacks on persons at the Granite City Hall, including policemen.

Officers reported they first heard a woman on the city hall steps yelling for help at 6 a.m. Monday. Patrolmen Roger Hayes and Jim Reader went outside to find two men wrestling on the ground and Venable and two women watching.

When policemen attempted to break up the fight, Venable jumped into the melee and struck Reader's jaw with a fist, reports said. Sgt. Jim Lengyl aided in halting the disturbance.

The five persons were taken into the police department lobby where Venable allegedly kicked over a chair and began screaming, swinging fists at everyone nearby and using loud profane language.

Force was required to subdue him, officers reported, and Venable received a cut to the back of his head.

Venable was charged with resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, fighting and two counts of battery. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated and was returned to police custody. Hayes also was treated and released.

Robert W. Womack, 20, of 2246 Lee Ave., and Edwin J. Hamilton, 22, of 4651 Spring Ave., were charged with fighting and disorderly conduct and were released on bond.

Venable was taken before Circuit Judge William Beatty at 3:45 p.m. Monday, pleaded guilty to all charges and was fined a total of $425. He was given a schedule to pay the fine and was ordered released.

As Patrolman Jerry Wilson was taking Venable downstairs to get his property, Venable allegedly started yelling at the two women who were present when the first fight occurred.

He allegedly used profanity, ignored Wilson's orders to stop, ran after the women and grabbed one. Wilson then pushed him against a wall and arrested him on a state charge of disorderly conduct.

Venable was released at 5:10 p.m. Monday on $100 cash bond.

Harmony Class yule dinner

A Christmas dinner party for members of Harmony Class of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church was held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Paddock, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Cox were hosts for the 6 o'clock dinner and the party that followed. Tables were decorated for the holiday season along with two beautiful trees. Rev. William Mathae gave the invocation.

During the social hour the group sang Christmas carols and held a gift exchange. President Homer Huber presented Fred Stutch, the teacher with a gift from the class.

A card was read from Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dix, former member, who now resides in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Other friends and members that attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hacke Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Frohardt, Mr. and Mrs. James Hamrick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stutch, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Potillo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Youngs, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, Mrs. Leona Cartwright, Otho Hensley, Mrs. Ruby Corbitt, Mrs. Villa Ridings, Mrs. Cruse, Mrs. Golda Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Henley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brewster of Edwardsville, Mr. and Mrs. John Hutton of Portage De Sioux, Mo. and Mr. and Mrs. John Lerch.

Mrs. Tarpoff club hostess

Mrs. Olga Tarpoff entertained members of the Junior Bay View Reading Club in her home, 2120 Clark Ave., last week for a yuletide party.

Her home was decorated with poinsettias, wreaths, and burning candles in keeping with the holiday season.

As each member exchanged gifts a program of Christmas music was played. The hostess directed games and each one received a prize.

Mrs. Tarpoff served a dessert course to Medames Alice Hunsinger, Mildred Jungels, Peggy Koerper, Marguerite Lexow, Ann Little, Velma Neumann, Marge O'Neill, Clova Taylor and a guest Melba Tarpoff. Mrs. O'Neill invited the club members to her home for the January meeting.

Matthew 2:1-2 "Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews?"

There are a tremendous amount of supernatural occurrences surrounding the birth of Christ. It will require you to have absolute faith in God, to believe that it actually happened. However, as we are born into the kingdom of God by faith, live by faith, and walk by faith, we have no problem whatsoever believing. It is indeed "meat to eat" that the world knows not of!

Wise men came seeking him who was born King of the Jews. They came believing in Him. They brought gifts unto Him. They found Him!

Do you know that today, wise men still seek for the one who was born King of the Jews? To them who seek, He will be found.

Will you seek for Him? Today.

Rites held for counsel

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Seminole, Okla., for Larry L. French, 39, general counsel at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He was injured fatally Friday night in a one-car accident in St. Louis County about a mile from his home in Chesterfield.

A memorial service was held at the same time as the funeral, in the Religious Center on the SIUE campus, with the Rev. James Shortall officiating.

He had been general counsel at the local university since Aug. 1, 1977. James R. Buck, executive assistant to SIUE President Kenneth R. Shaw, said:

"During his tenure at Edwardsville, Mr. French was called on to deal with a number of highly technical and delicate matters growing out of new developments in governmental regulations affecting minorities, women and disabled persons.

"At a time when the entire university was in a period of administrative transition, his expertise and prudent judgment were in frequent demand. He played an especially intense role in the negotiations which led to preservation of the Mississippi River Festival by virtue of a contract with the Netherlander organization.

"All who knew him recognized Larry French as a man of genial temperament, a totally professional dedication, and generous disposition to all with whom he dealt. He served the university all too briefly, and that period was marked with genuine distinction."

He formerly had been engaged in the private practice of law and served as legal counsel to Seminole Junior College. He had experience in public and academic law.

A professor of political science, history and law at Seminole College, where he originated the criminal justice program, he also was an associate professor of graduate education at the University of Oklahoma.

He had been special legal adviser to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and legal and education consultant to 50 Oklahoma school districts.

the Oklahoma State Department of Education and numerous institutions of higher education.

Mr. French acted on a consulting and advisory basis to many professional educational associations and to several national organizations.

A contributing author to the Business Law Review, the American School Board Journal, Journal of Law and Education, the Oklahoma Bar Association Journal and other law and education journals, he had written articles and books on constitutional law, school law and related subjects.

He received three degrees, including the juris doctor degree, from the University of Oklahoma, and was a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Survivors include his wife, Barbara Ann, and five children.

Group seeks government fraud tips

A delegation representing the American Citizens for Honesty in Government was in the Quad-City area last week to urge citizens discovering evidence of governmental corruption to contact them for an investigation.

The group, sponsored by the Church of Scientology, currently has 13 cases of alleged governmental wrongdoing under investigation in the St. Louis area.

Investigations include corruption in welfare, the military, state and county governments and other aspects of government, a spokesman said.

The group, which publishes the newspaper "Freedom" now has established an office in St. Louis. The newspaper regularly assails operations of the FBI, the American Medical Association and the State Department and criticizes news representatives who have cooperated with federal authorities.

Half of Bi-State staff is minority

The percentage of minorities and females employed by the Bi-State Development Agency has continued to increase, surpassing previous agency standards, it was announced by Barry M. Locke, executive director.

Minority employment at Bi-State is now 1,096, or 50.1 percent of the agency's total employment of 2,185. Female employment at Bi-State has risen to 411, or 18.8 percent of Bi-State's total workforce.

Minorities comprise 58 percent of Bi-State's bus operators, and females account for 16 percent. The figures are from a Bi-State employment report compiled by the Office of Affirmative Action as of Oct. 31.

"About 17.4 percent of the population in the seven-county area Bi-State serves is considered minority," Locke said.

Agency employment is divided into seven categories: officials and managers, professionals, para-professionals, technicians, office and clerical, skilled craft, and service-maintenance.

"We are particularly pleased with the great strides made at Bi-State in the employment of women, especially since increased participation of women in the transit workforce has only been seen in recent years," Locke said.

"Minority persons were an integral part of local transit even before Bi-State assumed operation of the regional bus network in 1963."

Stollings event

The Stollings School PTA will hold a children's Christmas program at 7:30 tonight, during which Santa Claus will appear and distribute gifts. The special holiday program will be in conjunction with the regular business meeting.

Stollings students also will be treated to Christmas activities at the school tomorrow, with a magic show at 10 a.m. and a special program at 1 p.m. After the program, Santa will visit individual rooms where parties will be held.

Retired persons dinner dance

The Granite City Area Chapter 1340 of the American Association of Retired Persons held an annual Christmas dinner dance at the Croatian Hall in Madison, attracting 180 members and guests.

A 6 o'clock buffet dinner was served and President Gina Hoover welcomed the group and introduced special guests, Mayor and Mrs. Paul Schuler, Executive Director of Granite City Housing David Morgan, and Mrs. Bertha Dudley, widow of Duke Dudley, whose band played at dances for the group for several years.

Dancing began at 7 p.m. to the music of Paul Sabo's Orchestra, through the courtesy of the Musicians Union.

The success of the Monday night dancing group and the disco classes taught by the youth volunteers of Coordinated Youth Services was evident as the dance floor was full at all times, the president added.

Mrs. Vina Law and Mrs. Caroline Teaney assisted Mrs. Hoover in presenting evening prizes donated by the 19th Hole, Sullies Package Store and Mrs. Dudley.

Announcement was made that a joint meeting of the 1978 and 1979 board of directors of the chapter will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 27, at the Township Hall. There will be no regular membership session in December and the next meeting is set for Jan. 10 for installation of officers.

All donated canned foods brought to the dance was given to the Salvation Army for Christmas baskets.

Rushing to get ready for the holiday season

Well, just a few more days and Christmas will be here. I should be completely relaxed and ready to enjoy the holiday. But as it is, I am still running around like a maniac, trying to get everything ready for Santa's arrival.

I am still determined that everyone in my family will get at least part of what he wants for Christmas. Everyone had such a long list and the difficult part was choosing the right thing since there was no way to get everybody everything that they said they wanted.

I have been trying to decide what to get my husband for Christmas. He has assured me that he won't get the slightest bit upset if he doesn't get the yacht, but Christmas is going crazy. It doesn't matter to me if it takes all of next year to pay those charges off; that hour on Christmas morning makes it all worthwhile.

I have set my own trap as far as the kids are concerned. They expect everything in the world at the gifts I came home with. I did manage to find some of the things that the boys have been dreaming about. For the other things I bought, you know, all of those neat little things that have not made the television commercials, I have an explanation.

Presents and food and all of the other trappings are fun, but the meaning of Christmas has to do with love.

Christmas. Of course, this year they want all of the Star Wars stuff, and of course, most of the really neat characters were sold out a month ago. Next year I will

I simply will tell the boys that Santa Claus doesn't watch television.

My husband has a problem hanging on to my Christmas gifts until Christmas morning. If he has bought me something really nice or that I had been begging for, he can't wait to give it to me.

So far, I have received four sweaters, a tape recorder, a lounge robe, and a new clothes dryer. There will be no terrific surprises under the tree since he has already fulfilled all of my Christmas wishes.

I, on the other hand, positively refuse to allow him to find out what I am getting him. It drives him crazy. He asks a million questions and searches the entire house every year. But his gifts are not in the house yet and won't be until Christmas morning.

While it is true that I am not quite ready for Christmas, I will be. I always am. In spite of the hustle and bustle, the baking, the wrapping and the keeping secrets, I always seem to get ready — although, at times, I wonder.

Christmas is a time for love. Presents and food and all of the other trappings are fun, but the meaning of Christmas has to do with love. May your Christmas be filled with that love, and all of the joy and happiness that the season was meant to bring.

I have an explanation. I simply will tell the boys that Santa Claus doesn't watch television.

But he sure would like to get a custom-painted van that I saw at Santa's local car dealership.

Dream on, my dear, you will have to be content with the less grand things that I have in mind for you I'm running out of cash.

Some people are smart; they join Christmas clubs or save money in other ways in start my shopping early. I promise.

Shopping is such a pain. I tried to get it all done in one day. Never again. The crowds were nice and pleasant, for about 20 minutes. Then I entered a toy department and the war was on.

Everyone was after the same little goodies that I

Derby race demonstration

A pinewood derby race under the direction of Charles Buford, cubmaster of Pack 141, was demonstrated at a meeting last week of the Cub Scout roundtable at Collidge Junior High School.

The opening ceremony was by Pack 22 and Aaron Colp and Billy Donaldson presented the colors.

Jane Isenburg of Pack 46 led the pinewood derby song. Prizes for the first, second and third place awards were car-shaped cakes furnished by Mary Whiteside. Lyn Votoupal donated a certificate for each winner. First place went to Janis

Smith, Pack 19; second to Pauline Perkins, roundtable commissioner, and third to Jeff Isenburg, Pack 46. A Webelo demonstration on the January theme of "engineer" was given by Buford. He noted the award could be civil, chemical, mechanical or industrial arts engineer.

Boys can construct a catapult, bridges and five simple machines, Buford said. Den leaders then made a space capsule and the closing thought "The Astronaut Way" was read by Cubmaster Barbara Varadian of Pack 19.

Christmas is the time for togetherness. Tenderness. Loving. And the greatest gift of them all — peace. Live it fully this season. Sincere gratitude to our patrons.

Patricia Wisniewski marries David Hinds

Miss Patricia Wisniewski of Edwardsville, and David Hinds of Granite City, were united in marriage on Sept. 16, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in DuQuoin, Ill.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 3 p.m. by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Angelo Lombardo, the Rev. Larry Necessary and Brother Casimier O.S.B.

Organist Steve Piotrowski accompanied Pamm Citron as she sang, "Ave Maria," "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wisniewski, Rural Route One, Tamaroa, Ill. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hinds, 2411 Hodges Ave.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal length white organza gown fashioned with an Empire waistline accented with Chantilly lace, complemented with a fingertip veiled edge in matching lace.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white daisies and white roses intermingled with baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Marilyn Wisniewski, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids included Jean Smith, and Tammy Harshbarger.

They were attired in yellow crepe gowns with matching capes and each attendant held a bouquet of white daisies, and baby's breath, tied with yellow streamers.

Denise Hinds, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl, and Randy Vukadinovich, the bride's nephew, served as ringbearer.

She was dressed in a long yellow frock with white flocking and enhanced with a white lace trim. She carried a basket of white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom chose his brother, Richard Hinds, as best man, James Noeth, David and Lee Wisniewski, brothers of the bride, Robert Hinds, another brother of the groom, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in DuQuoin.

The bride graduated from DuQuoin High School in 1974, and is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority and is also employed at STUE as an accounting clerk.

Her husband was graduated in 1974 from South High School and attended STUE where he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and the Crisis Intervention Unit. He is also a volunteer CPR instructor for the Illinois Heart Association and is employed at Adam's and Sons Ambulance Service in St. Louis, as an emergency medical technician.

After a wedding trip to Chicago the couple are now residing in Granite City.

Gardenaires yule party

The Christmas meeting of the Gardenaires Garden Club was held in the beautifully decorated home of Mrs. Alex Tarpoft, 1609 Clark Ave., last week. Mrs. John Tarpoft assisted in serving luncheon to 13 members. Table favors included tiny bird-feeder tree ornaments made by the president, Mrs.

Robert Hintz, and gay red and green pot holders, a gift from the hostess.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president. It was noted that members had decorated the main floor of the Granite City Public Library for the holiday season.

The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. John Farrell. She chose to tell us of some of the facts and fancies of Christmas decorations. Many of our traditions stem from pagan customs that were assimilated into the Christian religion.

The club will observe its vacation in January and the next regular meeting will be Feb. 8, in the home of Mrs. Leo Schank. Other members attending were Mesdames C. E. Eads, Earl Glenn, Roy Hermann, Richard Kerch, Charles Kohl, Mary Kristian, William Lund, A. A. Malottki and Abe Shannon.

the children at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

After dinner games were played and prizes awarded. Others attending were Stella Miller, chapter commander, Norma Darnell, Peggy Jones, Edna Miller, Elizabeth Ramsey, Della Rabb, Bert Ethington, Velma Finney, Nellie Dix, Clara Layton, Ernest VonNida, Bernice Johannigmeier, Margaret Minzes, Betty Teller, Jean Teller, Irma Manning, Hazel Jones, Harriet Komerly, Mary Lee Busler, Edna Bardsley, and Verna Spurrier. A business meeting will be held Dec. 28 at the VFW Post.

Co-extensive boundary law is the annexation villain

Comments this week by Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks pinpoint the inflexibility of the co-extensive city-township law, under which Alton and Granite City in this county cannot alter municipal lines without also affecting town boundaries. The other 22 townships in Madison County are not covered by the co-extensive statute.

With Granite City preparing to annex a 427-acre industrial park site, in order to provide the fire, street and police services desired by potential tenants, there would be no problem if the township territory could remain as it is. Instead, the annexation chips away at Chouteau's geography and tax base, making it more difficult to finance and plan township programs.

Any new industrial plants at the site will add the entire surrounding area in the form of jobs and economic activity. And the taxing process won't be altered for the Granite City community unit school district, whose boundaries already extend to the Hartford Canal. But there is a considerable impact on Chouteau Township in many ways, including the effect on shared revenue, other federal grants and certain state allocations.

The co-extensive law, it will be recalled, also has been the source of otherwise needless friction between Granite City and Nameoki Township, setting up an adversary relationship involving competition for population, taxation and land jurisdiction. The City of Madison, by contrast, extends into both Venice and Nameoki townships and any revisions of its city line have no effect on the townships.

By itself, the orderly extension of city boundaries and services is an innocent and helpful process through which citizens band together to obtain services they cannot perform individually or through townships or other forms of government. Due to the co-extensive requirement, it becomes anything but harmless in the eyes of many persons.

Christmas holiday a time of deep regard for others

Our Christmas 1973 thoughts accurately describe our viewpoint in the current holiday period—On such a deeply moving occasion as Christmas, it seems appropriate to summarize our thinking while not as a newspaper advocating precise religious concepts.

Celebration of the holiday may appear incongruous to some in a world that includes crime and want, terrorism and injustice. But, as our December issues have documented, there also is much sharing and caring.

Misfortune and sorrow are not absent, but in countless instances there has been genuine acceptance of the belief that it is better to give than to receive.

Perhaps, like the "little drummer boy" of Christmas tradition, our gift now and throughout the year is not immense by most methods of measurement. The field of communication involves many intangibles as well as tangibles.

But the wish of our dozens of staff members is to serve. Our desire to live up to the responsibilities and challenges of an honorable and needed calling knows no bounds.

Our goal is more than the sum of its parts. Like the craftsman who said he was not "laying bricks" but rather "building a cathedral," our hope is that the specific tasks we perform transcend their basic function.

We seek to help foster a community and region of informed, self-reliant citizens dedicated to constructive endeavor, with each Quad-Citizen fulfilling his individual identity through full awareness and regard for others.

If "home is where the heart is," the Press-Record truly is part of every local household this Christmas. We are happy and humbly proud to share in the joys and concerns of this holiday season.

Study

doctors hope to tie together existing and new data in unprecedented ways.

Clues will include state air monitor panels from the past eight years, and tissue from autopsies and surgeries. Wind and weather patterns on specific dates also will be considered in analyzing why and how an individual's lungs were "insulted" by a foreign particle.

Cooperation will be sought from area high school students and their parents. And attention will be given, through "back-year" analyses, to what appears to be a pocket of unusually high smoking incidence.

More than in most communities, many Quad-Citizens start smoking cigarettes heavily at an early age and continue it throughout their lives, the health "detectives" are convinced.

Illinois EPA funding, perhaps through the Illinois Department of Public Health, is to be arranged in the January-to-March period, although budgeting for the next biennium starting in July 1979 is likely to be the structure of funding.

The pathologists here are not accepting reimbursement for their time devoted to the project.

Who is to blame for the fact that a fourth of all St. Elizabeth Hospital patients are being treated for pulmonary-related problems, including bronchitis, emphysema, fibrosis and cancer? The doctors' answer is surprising.

Along with each person's responsibility for his smoking habits, a source of ill health could be non-visible forms of pollution, and their initial location might be St. Louis or St. Louis County or beyond.

Complicating the task is that some symptoms require 20 years to develop. But Dr. Kopp's records here go back to January 1969, a full decade. And new findings from air pollution studies and hospital materials will be evaluated through non-destructive methods, enabling them to become part of a permanent record for statistical interpretation.

Half-hour

to do anything to keep the sheriff from doing his job. We are not giving taverns any more time to sell liquor.

"All we are asking is that — when a patron buys a drink at 2 a.m. — he be allowed to remain on the premises to finish that drink."

Board Member James Hall of Alton extended, "There has been some harassment of taverns since the swearing in of the new sheriff. Some patrons have been told they have to get out at 2 a.m."

"I'm also opposed to heroin and to marijuana, which is sold in this county 24 hours a day. Can't we even give patrons time to finish their drinks?" Hall's statement brought a response from new board member S. Harold "Cotton" Roberts of Alton, who said, "I disagree with the term 'harassment by the sheriff.'"

"If there is a law, it should be enforced. He (Toffant) needs all the tolerance we on the County Board can give him."

Milton said he feels the amended terms of the liquor control ordinance is a clarification of the ordinance for the sheriff, not against him.

He said it is illegal to give drinks in "go cups" at 2 a.m., by state law, but it is legal to sell a patron a drink at 2 a.m. and then force him to leave.

Ebble made a motion that the amendment be tabled, but his effort failed on a 20-5 vote.

The amendment sitting one-half-hour to the time taverns can be open then passed 10 to 6. Voting against the later hours were Fred A. Dalton of Collinsville, Ebbel, Roberts, Homer Hendon of Moro, Richard Hugh Worthen of Alton and Lawrence Spelman of Troy.

Board members absent were Louis Whitsett of Nameoki Township, Arthur "Cooper" Moore of Madison and Dan Partney of Granite City.

Boundary

within an area whereby it can ask for annexation to another part of our township when they feel that it would be profitable to them and to their advantage.

(3) The future growth of assessed valuation in our township, which we had anticipated would come from this area for this industrial and commercial development, would now go to Granite City Township.

(4) As we loose property and population from annexation to Granite City Township, we will also lose part of our revenue sharing and other federal grant funds which are controlled by population and tax effort.

(5) As our property is chipped away, we will be left with only the parts which may not raise enough revenue to provide the services that are necessary and required by law, without a higher tax on the property that remains in Chouteau Township.

"I have worked very hard for the last four years to get severals in our township, in the anticipation that when they were completed the growth in assessed valuation from the industrial property and home building in our township would help lower the taxes for the people in our township."

"I am in favor of the industrial park and commercial growth for this township, but not at the expense of losing assessed valuation in Chouteau Township," Sparks concluded.

CAREFUL HANDLING by members of Granite City Fire Department's rescue unit is required to remove Andrew Aldredge, 19, of Caseyville from his auto, following an accident at 8 a.m. Wednesday at 21st Street and Edwardsville

Driver hurt seriously

An accident at 21st Street and Edwardsville Road at 8 a.m. Wednesday, left the driver of one vehicle, Andrew Aldredge, 19, of Caseyville, seriously injured.

Driver of the second vehicle, a 15-ton tandem truck, was Charles Wieble, 36, of Rural Route Two, Box 94, who was traveling south on Edwardsville Road.

Aldredge said his vision was obscured by another truck when he pulled out from 21st Street into the path of Wieble's vehicle, causing the latter truck to skid into the auto.

About 16 feet of fencing around Granite City Steel property was damaged, and the fire department's rescue unit was required to extricate Aldredge from his car. He was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

Aldredge was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with internal injuries, a possible concussion and possible chest injuries. He had cuts and bruises to the left eye and forehead and lacerations to the left temple and left ear. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Robertson is killed by auto Tree of Lights drive at 80%

Mrs. Bertha Robertson, 74, of 1908 Rhodes St., Madison, was pronounced dead at the scene at 8:20 p.m. by Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell. An inquest will be held.

She was born in Oaklawn Quad-City, Ind., and resided in the Quad-City area 64 years.

Her husband, Everett Robertson, preceded her in death.

She is survived by one brother, William Henderson of Madison.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

The Tree of Lights today stands at $20,000, still $3,000 short of the $23,000 goal of the 1978 Christmas appeal to provide yuletide baskets, toys and other items to area families in need.

Bruce Mott, Tree of Lights chairman, said donations will continue to be sought through the holiday season, with the drive officially concluding Dec. 31.

He urged everyone to bring contributions to the Salvation Army Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., or mail the donation to:

Salvation Army,
Post Office Box 338,
Granite City, Ill. 62040

"Today and Friday, those families and individuals who have requested Christmas aid will receive their holiday food baskets and toys for the children."

A total of 1,959 individuals will be helped through this year's fund, Captain Elmer Trapp said. Applications received at the Salvation Army Center totaled 478.

The fund also covers expenses of presenting gifts at area nursing homes and to hospitalized servicemen at Scott Air Force Base Hospital, Belleville, and hosting the Salvation Army Senior Citizens to Christmas dinner, together with other charitable acts performed each Christmas and throughout the year by the Corps.

Donors to the Tree of Lights, whose contribution of $25 or more have turned on one or more bulbs on the symbolic tree, include:

Retired Federal Employees, Chapter 1067; Young Married Couples Class, Trinity United Methodist Church; Mike Mooshegan, Evening Guild of St. John United Church of Christ, Rev. Ralph K. Craycraft Sr., Mrs. Esther Baumbarger, Mrs. W. C. Gerke, Robert Grimes, James F. Dudley, Dr. Henry L. Malench (four), Kit C. Grindstaff (two).

School levy up, rate to decrease

With the Illinois House failing to override a veto of Capital Development Board funding of part of Granite City schools' new taxes, the next school district nine tax rate won't benefit by a potential 11-cent per $100 valuation reduction.

The Board of Education took final action Tuesday night on 1978 tax levies for 1979 collection:

$6,375,000 for education, $650,000 for municipal retirement, $300,000 for transportation, $937,500 for fire prevention and safety, remodeling work and $917,575 for bonds and interest, a total of $9,223,344 levy for 1977, of which $16,915 was extended.

Supt. B. J. Davis and Director of Business Affairs Tulla A. Heubner said the next school tax rate is likely to total $3.772, down 2.8 cents from the $3.80 extended for the previous year, including: education (same); transportation 12 cents (same); life safety fund five cents (same); working cash five-cent rate (same); Illinois Municipal Retirement 25 cents (4.4 cents); and bonds and interest 36.7 cents (up 1.6).

The rate projections are based on an estimate that the $232,024,091 district assessment will rise to $250 million.

Jim Colby, supervisor of the white-collar crime section of the FBI's Springfield office, would confirm only that "we are looking into allegations of misuse of CETA funds in Madison County."

A spokesman for Granite City Steel said today he was unaware of any investigation until he heard about news reports this morning from an employee.

"We have checked with our personnel department and no one has been contacted by the FBI as far as we can determine," the spokesman said.

Dan Churovich, director of the Manpower Development office in Edwardsville, said nine CETA workers participated in a five-week on-the-job training program, beginning in May 1977, with CETA paying a portion of the training cost. At the end of the five weeks, Granite City Steel was to put them on its regular payroll, he said.

"CETA rules allow us to place trainees in private industry under the OJT (On-Job Training) program and I feel we have followed the rules," Churovich commented.

Cathey Jamison joins P-R staff

Cathey Jamison has joined the Press-Record news staff as feature editor, it was announced today.

Her column, The Lighter Side, will appear regularly along with a wide range of articles about Quad-City people and happenings.

Married, with two sons, she has lived in the Quad-Cities for nine years, including two years in Madison before moving to Granite City. Her children attend Wilson School.

"I love working with and writing about local people," she commented this week. "I hope to eventually know everyone in the area on a first-name basis."

"There are plenty of bad things going on in the world, but the kind of things that remind us that people are doing many constructive and interesting things."

"The people in the area are simple. I love my family, my home, and writing. In working for the Press-Record, our hometown paper, I can devote myself to all three priorities."

Winter is arriving today, and the morning temperature was 23 degrees, with bright winds and a zero chill index. Light snow is a possibility tomorrow.

News notes

A. Andreas Mateosian, a Granite City attorney who was an associate judge 12 years before being appointed as a circuit judge Sept. 20, 1977, was chosen this week to become an associate judge again. He was an unsuccessful ballot candidate for circuit judge this year.

Some procedural changes were agreed to by the Madison County Board of Review during a discussion with over 400 eastern county residents Monday at the Livingston park pavilion.

Board members denied intimidating residents who have complained about real estate assessments, and said they will check to make sure there haven't been excessive tentative multipliers for some townships. They signed a typed statement that they will set valuations at the median level of assessments prevailing in a township.

Circuit Clerk Willard V. Portell said Wednesday he has asked the Illinois Transportation Department to include a clerical office and small courtroom in its new district court building at Interstate 55-70 and Illinois 157. Truck overweight cases would be heard there, he said.

Bennett heads Pontoon ticket

A group of candidates for Pontoon Beach village offices announced during the Tuesday night that they will be seeking election in April under the Continued Community Development Party name. The party is headed by Trustee Paul Bennett, candidate for village board president.

Bennett hopes to replace President Floyd David Moss, who has announced he does not plan to seek re-election. Trustee Duane Skinner also announced this week that he will not run for re-election in April.

Bennett, a trustee since 1973, will run with incumbent trustees Keith Biggs and Loren "Kentuck" Madison, who are seeking re-election. The village's building inspector, Glen R. Wilson, will seek his first term as trustee on the Continued Community Development ticket.

5-car accident

Mr. J. J. Baker, Jr., remarked, "I don't think there is anyone on this council that doesn't agree the assessor needs more space, is there?"

There was no response.

On a roll call vote on Bailey's motion to grant the request, "no" votes were cast by Whitmer, Parnley, Bowler and Mrs. Margaret Nonn.

Voting in favor were Aldermen Bailey, Schuman, Clyde Boyd, Everett Morlen, Charles Douglas, Glen Sprankle, Warren Decatur, Ronald Coleman and Roy Poulos.

Alderman Earl Baker was absent.

Stuart Laughlin, 5200 Lakeview Drive, was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and driving while under the influence of liquor when he was involved in a five-car accident at Lakeview Drive and Rapp Road during the weekend.

Sheriff's deputies alleged Laughlin's northbound car struck the parked van of John Pingree, Huntsville, Ala., and the parked car of Cecil Morton, 2900 Indiana Ave., on Rapp Road, then veered across the road, hitting the car of Robert H. Smith, 587 1/2 W. 10th, and pushing it into the auto of Carol Lewey, 2 Paul Drive.

There were no injuries.

Ted Eilerman has been elected chairman of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council (SHCC) of Illinois.

Eilerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City, I. was elected at the council's meeting in Chicago last week. He was appointed by Governor James Thompson in September 1976 to serve on the SHCC.

The National Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974 established SHCCs to develop health plans tailored to the needs of individual states.

The Illinois SHCC now chaired by Ellerman is responsible for evaluating programs and needs for the state's Health System Agencies (HSAs). HSAs are geographical districts which include the various health resources of health care.

Ellerman is currently on the board of directors and is secretary of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, which encompasses the Illinois counties of Madison, Clinton, St. Clair and Monroe as well as the Missouri counties of St. Louis, St. Charles, Franklin and Jefferson.

In addition, he is a member of the Citizens' Health Council on Drug Abuse and Alcoholism, also appointed by Gov. Thompson. He is one of the directors of the Metropolitan Hospital Association; the Council on Health Planning and Resources; the St. Louis Hospital Association, and the board of directors of St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

The SHCC is comprised of persons within the health care industry, such as providers, and also consumers — persons who do not earn their income from the health care industry, but are concerned with it.

Doctors, nurses, pharmacists and hospital administrators are examples of providers. Farmers, students, the unemployed and representatives of senior citizen and ethnic groups are among consumers.

Eilerman is the third chairman the SHCC has had since its inception, and is the first provider to hold the position. He emphasizes the importance of voluntary roles by consumers and providers alike.

"I think the voluntary system for planning health services might be the last effort that will be made before Congress takes our health care system into its own hands," he said.

"As long as we're given the opportunity, we've got to work with it and do the best we can."

"I'll try to maximize everyone's input, and minimize procedural questions. "I want to allow people to have as much autonomy as possible, recognizing that we do have certain problems that are unique to the state of Illinois that need attention," he concluded.

A six-week nurse assistant course is being offered to the local community by Belleville Area College's Granite City extension center for the upcoming 1979-spring semester.

The non-credit general studies course, which starts Feb. 5, will be held Monday through Thursday from 4 to 8:50 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City. Course fee is $65.

AIRBORNE DEVIL. Venice's Derrick Mathis (left) goes up for a shot Tuesday against East St. Louis Assumption. The Red Devils lost a 58-56 heartbreaker.

Assumption tops Venice

Press-Record
Sports
Thurs., Dec. 21, 1978

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
EAST ST. LOUIS — After Tuesday night's basketball game with Assumption, the Venice Red Devils and Coach Ken Perkins are probably asking themselves just when they are going to finally win their first game and what they'll have to do to break the spell.

Again, Tuesday, Venice lost a squeaker 58-56 to Assumption. This is the third time in a row they have come close, only to fail in the closing minutes.

"We're not going to sneak up on anybody," said Perkins. "Everybody thinks Oh Venice, they've got a very good record, but they're a scrappy team."

The Red Devils snuck up almost as close as possible to Assumption, but a Venice foul with 14 seconds left, did them in. The Score was 56-54 when Assumption's Rance Currie stole a Venice pass and was headed downcourt. Ricky Jones of Venice fouled the guard and Venice took their chances with the one plus one bonus.

Currie sank both shots. Venice would have to score four points in 14 seconds to tie the game. Assumption had, for realistic purposes won.

"A couple of our guys just wanted that first win too bad. They tried to dribble through zones, they went for the ball too often, and they made some crazy fouls," said Perkins offering an explanation for the loss. "And it was our more experienced guys who hurt us the most. They wanted to do it all, and they got over-anxious."

This wasn't the case the entire game, however. Venice held a 43-38 lead going into the final period only to see Assumption tie them in the next two minutes, while Venice went scoreless from there the lead saw-sawed back and forth until the closing minute.

The third quarter was a different story. Assumption could manage only six points to Venice's ten. "We were a little sluggish in the third quarter," said Assumption Coach Lou Gregory. "But then we started driving and our offense and defense finally jelled in the fourth quarter," he said.

"We beat them in the third quarter," said Perkins. "Currie on the free throw line eight times, that's what beat us."

Assumption's 6'6" sophomore, Gerald Stevenson, was held in check effectively by the Red Devils, scoring only 14 points compared to the 27 he scored recently against Madison. But while stopping Stevenson, the Red Devils were plagued by Currie, who also scored 14 on the night. "One time we'll have trouble with the big men and sometimes we'll have trouble with a guard. We're just not very consistent," said Perkins.

One point of consistency in the game was the narrow margin separating the teams. The biggest lead of the night was Venice's seven point advantage at the end of the third quarter. In the first half the two teams were up and down the court matching each other point for point. The Red Devils' Jones scored at the buzzer ending the first quarter to give the Venice a 16-14 lead.

Again at the close of the second quarter, Jones scored giving his team a 33-30 lead. It was that close throughout the remainder of the contest.

"We played stupid," said Perkins. "I don't know why we kept going for the ball in the last period. And we got burned on fouls."

"Venice has a scrappy offense," said Gregory. "And they're a very well-coached team. They're very patient on offense."

"I wanted that first win. But even if we would've won, that wouldn't change the fact that we played pretty poor," said Perkins.

Assumption 58, Venice 56.

VENICE — Ricky Jones 17, Reggie Mathis 12, Deek Mathis 8, Terry Arnold 7, McKenzie 6, Lamon Blakely 6, FG 24, FT 8.

North frosh down South

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North freshman wrestling team took advantage of several forfeits, claimed most of the lighter-weight decisions and took a 39-31 victory from the South frosh here Tuesday.

North won seven bouts in all, with the young Warriors managing only to win four. There were four forfeits by South and there was no heavyweight bout.

At 98 pounds, North's Steve Smith needed only 1:54 to pin South's Tod Daniel.

Ron Rowden of North topped that; he pinned Warrior Joe Anselmo in 1:01.

Steele John Acosta took a 9-3 decision from South's San Givens in the 112 pound weight division.

South took three of its four victories in the next three bouts.

At 126, Warrior Bob Nicowicz took the first one on a forfeit, John Buswich pinned North's Keith Gray in 5:29 at the 132 pound level. Mike Niebur of South pinned Jeff Gibbs of North at 119 in 3:49.

Then came four straight forfeits by South. At 138, 145, 155 and 167 pounds. Steelers Scott Corey, Doug Sheppard and Tom Crawford won these bouts respectively.

Finally at 167 pounds, Bob Patton of North took yet another forfeit win for North.

The final bout of the match saw South's John Stanton win a 6-0 decision over North's Dave Owens.

In a sophomore meet Tuesday, South fell to O'Fallon 37-27. South winners were Randy Lupardus at 112 (14-3), Tom McElroy at 132 (5-31), Kevin Knowland at 135 (19-0), Jim Frangoulis at 167 (pin in 1:37), and Bart Gardener at 185 pounds (pin in 3:42).

South forfeited three bouts in the match because of no wrestler at a given weight.

Johnson to make trip

EDWARDSVILLE — Judy Johnson, sophomore at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been invited to compete in the 1979 United States Gymnastics Federation's Dial open, according to Larry Moehe, her trainer and teacher.

Johnson, a native of Alton and a member of the Mid-Illinois Jet Elite Gymnastics Club, will compete in the meet that will be held in Tuscon, Ariz., Feb. 15-18.

She is one of 35 of the nation's top USA female elite gymnasts. From the top 6 to 10 all-around winners will be eligible for an international meet which will be determined at a later date.

Miss Johnson has also been invited to do an exhibition at the Louisville (Ky.) Christmas Classic Meet, Dec. 15-16. Her sister, Jane, a member of the Alton club and a secretary at SIUE's School of Dental Medicine, has also been invited to take part in the meet at Louisville.

South drops third straight

By DOUG IRWIN
of the Press-Record
BRENTWOOD, Mo. — The losing stress continued as Granite City South's Club hockey team lost its third straight hockey game here Monday night. They were outshot, 26-23; outscored, 6-3; and out skated as a team.

As individuals, the Warriors looked good, but because of the fact they have had only a day of practice since their first game, they're not skating as a team.

Thies, assisted by Daron Bridick, 2-1.

Now in the second period, Aquinas scored first, 3-1. Then, Ron Markarian reduced the deficit back to one with a goal assisted by Tim Dix and Danny Kresovich, 3-2.

The next three were scored in the third period by the Aquinas club. Granite had only 7-06 in which to score four goals to tie the contest — they only scored one, by Andy Hinterser, who was assisted by Thies.

"We're getting it, but we're not finishing it off," said Coach Dix. "We're shooting, but not on goal."

Tomorrow night, the South club will travel to St. Charles to try to tie its record at three.

Rating uniforms...

Decided I'd rank area basketball teams by the attractiveness of their uniforms.

Without a doubt, the most attractive are East St. Louis Assumption's outfits. The Pioneers have taken a page out of Al McGuire's notebook. If the colors were changed, you might think it was Marquette out there on the floor instead of an area high school team.

For those of you who aren't familiar with Assumption's outfits, they're bright orange, with shirt tails out and the word "Pioneers" written along the bottom with HUGE numerals on front and back.

But from the top spot, become familiar with the Quad-Cities. In the Quad-Cities, I feel it's a toss-up between Granite City North (even though black and silver aren't exactly the most exciting colors in the world) and Madison. They aren't really unique, just attractive.

As far as Granite City South and Venice are concerned, Venice has to be in third place with South taking up the rear. I take that back. I kind of like Grigsby Junior High's uniforms better than South's.

In fact, I put South and Collinsville at the very bottom of the list. South may be just a hair above the Kahoks, since they are allowed to wear a little more modern foot apparel.

But Collinsville... BORING! I mean, how exciting can a white uniform with the word "Kahoks" printed on the front be? That's it... except for the 1940 purple high-top sneakers. They look like something out of a James Naismith playbook.

Bethalto (Civic Memorial) is near the top. Just for the plain fact that purple and yellow are such gashy colors, they deserve an award for having enough nerve to put on the things.

Also near the top is East St. Louis Senior. Let's face it. Any school that has enough money to give each player three sets of football uniforms must also have enough dough to splurge on some nifty basketball outfits.

Belleview Althoff comes in fourth. The Crusaders have perhaps the most interesting colors. Gold and blue. They almost look like Notre Dame out there. I wonder if that was intended?

Then there's Bellevue West. Its team's nickname is the Maroons. Guess what color the uniforms are? Real original.

Roxana has a lot of nerve to even call its team the "Shells." Much less make them put on uniforms (You guessed it, yellow and red) that say so. When Roxana plays Granite City North's Steelers, it looks more like a battle between gigantic business conglomerates than a high school basketball game.

...and nicknames

That brings me to nicknames. State-wide, I guess the most horrendous excuse for a nickname is the New Berlin Pretzels. I'm not kidding. They're actually called the Pretzels.

Then there's the Cobden Appleknockers. I know it's a regional name and all — referring to the orchard industry down there — but really... APPLEKNOCKERS?

How about the Pekin Chinks? The American Civil Liberties Union is going to have a field day with that one. What exactly is an Evanston WildKIT? I've heard of a wildCAT, but never a wildKIT. Better look it up in Funk and Wagnall's, I guess.

Centralia has its Orphans. Poor guys. Imagine all those high school athletes all these years without any parents. Must be some kind of record.

Nicknames, I suppose should say something about the town in which the school is located. But how many Tigers roam the woodlands around here. Are there very many Rams around Mt. Vernon? How about Indians' Or Knights?

Have you ever seen a Warrior on the warpath in Granite City? Or a Comanche in Cahokia (recently)?

It would really make more sense for Cahokia to be called the Kahoks instead of Collinsville, wouldn't it?

Is there a big hole in the ground in Venice for the Red Devils to crawl into at night? Is there an abundance of short people in Freeburg (home of the Midgets)? Is there a NASA plant in Okawville, the home of the Rockets?

Of course, none of the above means a hoot nor a botter when it comes to winning basketball games, does it?

Weight Watchers...

Granite wrestlers find many ways to get down to weight

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Wrestling is one of the "pure" sports. One in which no extra equipment is used; only the body. The wrestler's body, therefore, must be maintained as his only tool and kept in the best possible running order.

Wrestling is also the only high school sport in which there are weight divisions, a fact that sometimes inspires some rather bizarre efforts by the wrestlers in order to lose the necessary weight to qualify for his particular division.

In wrestling circles, this practice is called cutting weight. To the layman it might be called self-torture.

Like all things, there is a right, and a wrong way to cut weight. "We recommend that the kids get on a diet and stay with lean meat, fruit and vegetables. The main thing is to try to stay off the junk. Usually if they do that, it works pretty well," said Granite City North's wrestling coach, Walt Whitaker.

Granite City South's coach, Bill "Red" Schmitt, draws similar guidelines for his wrestlers. "Basically, they have to lay off the high calorie things. What I call rot-gut, pastries, pies, cookies and chocolate," he said. "The night before a meet if they have a weight problem, I tell them to stay off liquids."

The coaches, of course, are describing the right way to lose weight. But to a wrestler who needs to lose, say, ten pounds in six days, any way that works is the right way. Wrestlers get somewhat strange when they are desperate.

"We've had some guys do some strange things sometimes," said Whitaker. "I discourage them but they do it anyway without me knowing it. I usually hear about it later."

Basically, the non-diet devices used by the wrestlers to take off the pounds can be divided into three categories: 1. The scientific method; 2. The gimmick method; 3. The physical method.

The first of these categories, the scientific method, takes into account the way in which the body uses up the food and liquid it takes in. Scott Polson, a wrestler at Granite City South, explained, "Liquids make your weight go up and down a lot. Food won't make that big a difference." So on the night before the meet Polson avoids liquids.

Whitaker described how other wrestlers made use of this method. "We've had some kids buy sandwiches and put them on the scales to see how much they weighed," he said. "Some guys inhale and stand on the scales, some exhale and stand as still as they can, some on the back, some on the front, anything they can figure out to try to get down."

The second category, and by far the most bizarre, is the gimmick method. The intent of these techniques is to enable the wrestler to have his cake and eat it too, so to speak. These gimmicks range from the use of laxatives to shaving the hair off the legs.

North wrestler Allan Kirgan uses this method. "I found out that if I drink a lot of water I throw up, so now if I eat too much and I'm overweight, up it comes. I used to worry a lot about making weight until I learned my little trick," he said.

Greg Garland, a wrestler at South, uses another gimmick. "Sometimes, if you just have to lose like an eighth of a pound you can stick your finger in the corner of your eye and that will do it," Garland didn't say how much each tear weighed.

Both Schmitt and Whitaker have seen a wide variety of tricks used down through the years. "When I was at South, said Whitaker, 'We had one kid who shaved the hair on his legs to try to get down a couple of ounces. Whatever he did, it worked." "We've had kids take a lot of laxatives to lose weight, and some chew gum and spit a lot."

Schmitt recalls the time when one of his wrestlers ate a box of gelatin in the hopes that it would congeal in his stomach and relieve his hunger. "It didn't work, though," said Schmitt. "In fact, it made him half sick."

Schmitt said that if the weight loss only was a few ounces that a haircut sometimes did the trick. The third category, the physical method, is probably the most effective. By using this method, the wrestlers simply either deny themselves extra food or run and exercise until they work off excess weight.

Most wrestlers agree that if you work in practice and stay busy the weight will come off. "If you're going to lose weight you should do it naturally," said Schmitt. "A wrestler should determine his optimum weight and wrestle in that weight category. The biggest hassle is making weight and staying there. A lot bounce up and down. The ones who do it intelligently are in better shape than the ones that bounce, it takes a lot out of them."

Whitaker agreed. He said that most of his wrestlers seem to want to wrestle at a lower weight, even though he thought that they should wrestle at their natural weight. "They think that if they can get into the smaller class and retain their strength they'll have an advantage," he said.

No matter what method is used, losing weight is difficult. Wrestlers have to make weight before every meet, and for this reason, many have to make some considerable sacrifices.

"These kids like to eat," said Schmitt. "It's a cultural trait. In this country you just eat until you can't stuff any more in. It's not like that in Europe or Africa. High school wrestling is the only sport with a weight problem. So, wrestlers have to make a choice between eating as

ALLAN KIRGAN of North looks puzzled as to what he sees on the scale. Of course, wrestlers weigh-in without clothes... but what were we supposed to do for a picture? (Press-Record Photo)

Lewis & Clark tourney is set

GODFREY — The Eighth Annual Lewis and Clark Holiday Basketball Tournament will be held in Hatfield gymnasium, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 22 and 23, 1978. This tournament is one of the oldest traditions of Lewis and Clark, having been started the first year that the College was in operation. The round-robin tournament will open at 6:30 p.m. Friday with Olney Central College meeting Mississippi County Community College of Blytheville, Arkansas. At 8:30 Friday evening, the LCCC Bucks will play

Malcolm X Community College of Chicago. Saturday afternoon will see Malcolm X paired with Olney Central at 1:30, and Mississippi County opposing Lewis and Clark at 3:30. Saturday evening Malcolm X and Mississippi County will play the first game at 6:30, and Olney Central and Lewis and Clark will meet at 8:30 in the tournament windup.

Mississippi County participated in last year's tournament; Olney Central and Malcolm X are newcomers. The Bucks will be tournament hosts for the eighth time. The Bucks won the tournament in 1974, 1975 and 1976. Last year's winner was Rend Lake Community College.

Athletic Director Arnold Copeland, tournament manager, believes this year's tournament will be extremely interesting in that it will have two downstate Illinois teams, one from Chicago and one from the Deep South. Fans will see basketball as it is played in three or perhaps four different areas.

The winner's trophy will be awarded to the team which wins the most of its three games. In case of a tie, the team with the largest total point-spread will be declared winner.

 Venice High will square off against Lebanon in the second game of the tournament, Tuesday, Dec. 26 at 10:30 a.m. The game will be preceded by the first game of the session, Coulterville against Columbia, will be a double-elimination affair and will conclude on Friday, Dec. 26.

Mississippi entered this week with a 3-1 record. Illinois State, which had a Monday night game at Western Kentucky, was 3-2. Northern Illinois is even at 4-4, and Loyola has a 3-4 record.

Illinois State, coached by Bob Donewald, has four of its starters in double scoring figures led by veteran guards Jones and Derrick Mayes at 20.2. Mayes has played on ISU teams that won holiday tournaments each of the past three years, and he was voted to the all-tourney team two winters ago in the Connecticut Classic.

Lady Cougar cagers to take short break

By NANCY WEIL
 For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's basketball team will take a short break before facing Western Illinois University on Jan. 13 at the Edwardsville High School gym.

Coach Lori Sk's cagers finished a road trip to Chicago with two wins, defeating Northeastern Illinois University, 68-52, Friday and Chicago State University, 68-33, Saturday.

Kathy Going, senior from Addieville, led the scoring for the Cougars with 20 points against Northeastern and 19 points against Chicago State. Going is averaging 17 points per game.

Helping the Cougars in points against Northeastern were: Olivia Allen with 14 and Denise Schaeke with 12. Schaeke, a freshman from Edwardsville, played 44 offensive and defensive basketball during the weekend. She is averaging 14.8 points per game.

The Cougars started the Saturday game against Chicago State slowly, with some ball handling difficulty. They soon recovered and pulled ahead of the Chicago Cougars 31-15 by the half.

Besides Going, there were two other Cougars in double figures. O'Laughlin, senior co-captain, scored 16 points and Schaeke, racked up 12.

Girls to compete in cross-country

Girls' soccer as a varsity high school sport? It's a bright possibility but will mark time until there are enough schools to compete with the Granite City Board of Education decided Tuesday night.

Gymnastics was dropped immediately and bowling was dropped as a sport for the 1979-80 school year as the board ratified proposals by the school district's Athletic Council. Girls cross-country will begin in 1979-80.

The Athletic Council had met Dec. 7 and discussed girls' athletic programs. Members present were: Gilbert Wamsley, James Dumont, Roger Smith, Bryan Wilkinson, Greg Patton, Harry Lang and Joseph Fedora, who is administrative assistant for athletics and physical education.

Ten subjects were discussed:
 1. Soccer — Presently the only time slot available to implement soccer is in the spring of the year, due to available scheduling of competition of soccer in this community, but believes that soccer should not be included at this time.

When soccer is implemented, it is believed it should be in the fall of the year.

In spring, it would seriously affect present track and softball participants and programs. The committee intends to spearhead a movement in this area to add girls soccer in the fall, which could replace field hockey as a fall athletic activity.

Presently, there are no area schools on this side of the river participating in girls soccer. The school district has mentioned the possibility for future implementation to several schools. They seem somewhat receptive, and also would consider soccer only if a fall sport, replacing field hockey.

student interest. Continue for this year, and recommend bowling be dropped for the 1979-80 school year. Five games are allowed this year, but there is difficulty in filling the schedule.

3. Gymnastics — Very little interest by neighboring schools, as well as student athletes. Great difficulty in finding qualified coaches. Season is to begin in January. The committee recommends dropping gymnastics this year. Only nine girls have indicated an interest at one high school, and not many more at the other.

4. Cross country — For 1979-80, much interest in the area for girls cross country. The new conference has expressed the distinct possibility of including girls cross country as a conference activity for the 1979-80 school year. The committee believes that cross country will provide a better program, serving more girls than the present bowling and gymnastics programs. Finally, it believes the cross country program will be more economical.

5. Volleyball — Maintain the activity.
 6. Basketball — Maintain the activity.

Office attire meeting topic

Future Secretaries of Granite City High School North were cautioned about the proper wearing apparel, ways to seek a job, and how to impress the boss at their December meeting held at the high school by a panel of former members. Serving on the FSA alumni board were Liz Rogenski, Nesco Steel Barrel Co.; Darlene Arakaki, Millers Mutual Insurance Co.; and Mary Miller, R. Rowland & Co., Inc.

Other points brought out included the value of FSA membership when filling out an application form and talking to the interviewer; also which courses were the best to take in high school in order to get ahead on the job. Accounting and Business English were found to be most beneficial, while the knowledge of shorthand did not help, due to none being required in the positions held by the panel members.

The members questioned the girls on salaries, hours of work, and whether they enjoyed their jobs. Serving as moderator for the panel was Mrs. Charlie Vunovic, FSA committee chairman of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association.

President Rena Hill conducted the meeting. It was announced that members who had missed two meetings without being excused would be sent warning letters, reminding them that absence from a third meeting would mean automatic loss of membership from the chapter. No meeting is scheduled for January, due to mid-term exams. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 27, at which time proper make-up for the office will be discussed.

Methodist Women installs

The United Methodist Women of Niedringhaus Methodist Church met in Wesley Hall last week for its December general meeting. President Dolores Allen introduced the Rev. William Mathae who led "A Woman's Christmas Litany" with the group participating. Following this the elected officers for 1979 took part in decorating a "Christmas Tree" with Christmas symbols of white and gold. Mrs. Allen led this worship service.

Rev. Mathae installed the following officers for 1979, president, Dolores Allen; vice-president, Elizabeth Briggs; secretary, Wanda Grothuis; treasurer, Velva Brewster; Christian Social Involvement, Carol Carpenter; Christian personhood, Maxene Hacke; supportive community, Gladys Potillo.

Christian global concerns, Dorothy Frohardt; local church responsibility, Lynn North and Sharon Reader; program resources, Marie Klein; membership, Ethel Lerch; publicity, Elsie Henley; nominating committee, Emily Hahn, Shirley Loy, and Elsie Henley. Church Women United representatives, Clara Huber, Eula Davis; bazaar chairman 1979, Mary K. Groshong; circle leaders, Lois Lester, Eula Myers, Lucy Weaver, Shirley Lane, Thelma Clements, Edna Stith and Mable Gertsch. A short business meeting followed with new circle group members named. December birthdays were remembered with the birthday song. Circles were asked to co-operate and assist the live nativity scene to be held at the church Dec. 19, 20 and 21.

The Dr. Earl Miller family and Carol Farnsworth sang selections from a Christmas Cantata "A Christmas Celebration" with Jenni and Kimberly doing the narration. Caroline Jenkins was accompanist for the group. All women joined in singing "Silent Night" in closing.

Hostesses for the evening were members of Patience Circle with Ethel Lerch, leader and Love Circle with Jan. Kohl leader. All circles will hold regular meeting in January, it was noted.

Sunshine Class yule party

A Christmas party and regular business meeting of the Sunshine Class of Second Baptist Church was held at the church with Esther Reutzel as hostess.

The opening prayer was given by guest Ethel Cox followed by the group singing holiday carols accompanied at the piano by Gloria Jean Harper, another guest.

Business discussions were conducted by President Gladys Hudgens. Members agreed to send a donation to the Lottie Moon fund. "Putting Christ First" was the topic of a devotional lesson given by Gail Culpepper.

During the session a game was played with Mrs. Alma Burnett winning the prize and closing prayer was offered by Betty Lewis.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Hudgens, it was announced. Members present were Margaret Culpepper, Margaret Newberry, Frances Sims, Esther Davis, Steffie Lizar, Norma Rains, Evelyn Smith, Gloria Lee Burnett, Isabelle Burnett, Dorothy Barnes and Frances Arthur.

Guests attending included Myra Grote, Florence Paul, Ethel Cox, Karen Newberry, Nancy Moore, Gloria Jean Harper, Rachel Reutzel, Nancy Reutzel, Bob Lewis, Mina Duggins and the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Watkins.

Seniors attend holiday party

The YMCA Senior Citizens held a Christmas party last week.

The meeting was called to order by President Lucille Pierce and Chaplain Lester Thiele offered a short talk on the meaning of Christmas and said the prayer and pledge to the flag.

Dinner was served on tables with white cloth and red place settings. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus and a vase of flowers decorated the center of each table. Mrs. Naomi Ronney gave a reading.

After dinner, music was provided by the YMCA senior citizens' band and the chorus sang several songs. Marge Hall sang, "All I Want for Christmas is My Two Front Teeth." Ted Jacobs and John Polson sang several songs and Marge Hall led the crowd in several more songs. Door prizes were awarded each person with a bag of favors, including an apple, an orange and a pear. Bowls of candy were on the tables. Dec. 22, a cookie party will be held and everyone is urged to bring a sandwich and cookies. Friday, Dec. 29, the group will hold a salad luncheon.

Priority for multi-purpose gym

A $4.5-million emission control project at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and a $9.6-million multi-purpose building project at SIUE at Edwardsville are the top two items on the SIUE System's capital project priority listing for the 1979-80 fiscal year, approved by the SIUE Board of Trustees here Thursday afternoon.

Prepared by the general secretary of the system to assist the Illinois Board of Higher Education in preparation of a statewide priority list, the SIUE listing includes nine Carbondale projects totaling $10,297,700 and five local projects amounting to $10,961,000, for a total of $21,258,700 for the system.

The approved priority ranking for all 14 projects is:

1. Emission control (SIUC), $4,536,000.
2. Multi-purpose building (SIUE), $9,647,000.
3. School of Law, equipment (SIUC), $699,000.
4. School of Law, site (SIUC), $395,000.
5. Broadview Hotel, remodeling (SIUE), $669,000.
6. Women's gym, remodeling (SIUC), $2,595,200.
7. Roof repairs, core buildings (SIUE), $43,000.
8. Remodeling, handicapped and safety (SIUE), $127,000.

9. Electron microscopy, remodeling (SIUC), $388,800.
10. Electron microscopy, equipment (SIUC), $283,000.
11. Minor remodeling, Alton campus (SIUE), $87,000.
12. Minor remodeling, handicapped (SIUC), $735,000.
13. Minor remodeling projects (SIUC), $450,000.
14. Medical, boiler conversion (SIUC), $72,700.

The board previously approved capital budget requests totaling $16.8 million for the local campus and $26.9 million for Carbondale.

$30 million dental school project studied by SIUE

A decision as to whether the School of Dental Medicine will be built at Alton, where it is now operating, or on the main SIUE campus involves $30 million of construction.

SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw has announced he will recommend that the dental school be located permanently at the Alton Center, the former Shurtliff College campus.

"Phasing of construction at the Edwardsville site is not an acceptable alternative, whereas phasing of construction at the Alton site could be accomplished with a minimum of disruption of the academic program," Dr. Shaw commented.

"Neither the Alton site nor the Edwardsville site poses any particular advantage as it relates to the availability of land," the president added.

Regarding programmatic considerations, Dr. Shaw said by maintaining the dental school at Alton, students and staff would benefit from "the positive relationships already developed with local hospitals, health-related agencies, doctors, and other educational institutions."

He added, "There appears to be no overriding academic benefit to choose one site for the School of Dental Medicine over another site."

"It is generally thought, and the administration at the School of Dental Medicine concurs, that the number of patients in Alton offers an abundant supply and the diversification of patients that is needed."

Withdrawing the School of Dental Medicine from Alton would negatively impact the economy of that area, Dr. Shaw said. He explained that the economic impact has been estimated by the Alton Special Council Committee at $17.5 million annually.

"While this amount cannot be quantitatively validated, there is no question that moving the School of Dental Medicine would have disastrous consequences to the City of Alton and the upper Alton area," the president said.

Dr. Shaw also pointed out that "the shortage of housing at the Edwardsville campus has reached epidemic proportions, while the Alton area is in a much better position to provide adequate housing for the School of Dental Medicine students and staff."

"If the university would abandon the Alton site, it would have a deleterious effect on the surrounding residential area."

Dr. Shaw said the next set of decisions the university must confront relates to whether the project should be built at one time or be phased. "This is a matter that depends not only on what is best for the School of Dental Medicine, but on the availability of funds from the state."

Births, deaths vary slightly

A total of 277 births, including 127 boys and 150 girls, was reported in Madison County during November, a decrease of only one below the total of November 1977, according to a vital statistics report by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

The number of November births compares with a total of 278 in the same month a year ago, which included 140 boys and 138 girls.

The report listed a total of 172 deaths last month, up seven from 165 in November 1977.

There were 208 marriages during the year, up four from 204 in the same month a year ago.

100,000-light display

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows ninth annual Way of Lights program through Jan. 7 has been expanded to over 100,000 lights. They illuminate the shrine nightly from 5 to 10 p.m.

Emmanuel's Muppets are performing live shows at the Visitor Center, during the Way of Lights.

Joe Siddle, his brothers, Perry and Jeff, and cousin Ron team up with Mike and Randy Graves to perform "The Small One." The story is about a disreputable old donkey (the Small One) and his young friend (David) who unknowingly become part of the miracle of Christmas. The 20-minute show is performed every half-hour, Monday through Thursday, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

On weekends, Friday through Sunday, a film, "The City That Forgot Christmas," will be shown from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Visitor Center. Also being offered nightly is a slide show called "The Story of Christmas," produced and directed by Jan Ceglinski and Fr. Mike Hanson.

Troopers cut state district fatalities

All motorists should be concerned about making driving more civilized and pleasant, according to Illinois State Police District Commander Albert J. Bertagnoli.

Captain Bertagnoli said November accident reports indicated 176 persons lost their lives on Illinois highways during the month. The captain said that District 11 showed a reduction of 17 rural fatalities for 11-month period of 1978, as compared to the same time period in 1977.

In order to assist the public in further reducing the fatality figures the Illinois State Police have continued the concentrated traffic enforcement program.

This is the program to increase police visibility and enforce all traffic laws at selected high accident areas.

In November District 11 troopers assigned to the program contacted 684 drivers in violation of traffic laws.

In addition troopers made six criminal arrests and assisted eight disabled motorists.

"The basic idea behind concentrated traffic enforcement is self compliance, and since more and more time is spent on the road in our highly mobile society," Captain Bertagnoli said, "the motorist has to accept the fact that traffic safety begins with him."

TOURNEYS DON'T HARM FISH POPULATIONS

Illinois Department of Conservation fisheries biologists have released a report which shows that bass populations in 11 Illinois lakes are not adversely affected by bass club fishing tournaments. Responses from clubs surveyed indicate that most fish are returned to the lake in which they are caught.

Biologists had been concerned about survival rates of released fish, but the data show bass which are properly handled and released soon after being caught — stand a good chance of surviving. Bass clubs said Lake Shelbyville is the most popular water for tournament fishing.

Shop owner struck by club

Frank Cantlon, owner of the West Side Confectionery, 2039 Illinois Ave., was struck on the head with a wooden club, wielded by one of two men who entered his store last week.

Cantlon said the men looked around the shop a few moments. One man stood by the door while the second walked toward him at the cash register, asked for some sugarless gum, took a wooden club out of his coat, and struck the shop owner on top of the head.

Both fled through the front door, running along Illinois Avenue toward 22nd Street. Cantlon said he fired three shots at the pair and may have hit one man.

Police picked up a 16-year-old youth at West 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue a few months later, but positive identification could not be made.

One man was 19 or 20 years old, six feet tall, weighed about 140 pounds, had short hair and wore an Army fatigue-style jacket and dirty grey shoes.

The second man wore a red, white and blue stocking cap, was about five feet, 10 inches tall, had slim build with a pimply face and was about 18 years old.

Cantlon suffered a laceration to the head.

Future teachers advised to broaden their combinations

Prospective teachers who expect to find jobs in public school classrooms in Illinois must broaden their teacher combinations, according to

David R. Van Horn, director of Placement Services at SIUE. Van Horn said his advice is based on teacher supply projections by the Department of Planning, Research and Evaluation of the Illinois Office of Education, discussed at the fall conference of the Illinois Association for School, College and University Staffing.

The report indicates teacher shortages currently exist in mathematics, chemistry, physics, industrial arts, agriculture and various special education concentrations.

The oversupply, which persists despite a 50 percent reduction in the number of teachers prepared for certification in Illinois schools in the last seven years, is in social sciences, foreign languages, English, guidance counseling, regular elementary teaching and elementary art.

Compounding the tight job market, the survey also indicates a 50 percent decline in the turnover rate of employed teachers in Southern Illinois. In 1968, nearly 10,700 teachers changed jobs, compared to 7,492 in 1976.

Van Horn said teachers are not moving because of limited openings in their areas of certification.

The employment rate of new graduate teachers has also declined over the same period; 1971 was the peak year for new Illinois education graduates entering the profession, with 16,000 teachers hired. Since then, the number has declined 50 percent.

Bi-State's 'heart' is the controversial bus system

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

"Transit systems are like fire and police departments: you need them, but not everyone uses them," Barry Locke, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, told the Madison-Venice Rotary Club last week in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets.

Locke gave an overview of the agency, beginning with the airport, located on 724 acres of land owned by the agency and is one of the busiest general aviation airports in the country with over 200,000 air movements a year.

Locke told the Rotarians that a $4 million government grant will allow a new runway, better road and new tower building. Plans are to develop an industrial site on the east end of the airport.

Bi-State also serves as the coordinator of activities between the six port districts.

"Our purpose is to help the various districts work together to create new jobs. The millions of tons a year that flow on the Mississippi makes this one of the busiest waterways in the world."

"We don't want to tell the port authorities what to do. We want to keep everyone working together looking for new business to locate on the waterfront," he said.

Transportation system in the Gateway Arch is another one million visitors a year. "This is the only money maker we have and most of the money earned are used in part to improve the area around the Arch. This has become one of the major attractions in the world," Locke said.

Locke said the agency is looking into the possibility of getting into the energy field by turning the 400 tons of trash a day into electric energy.

"If our study shows that this project is economically feasible, then we will probably sell $70 to $100 million in bonds. This would be one of the biggest operations of its type in the world."

Locke stressed the development role in the agency in creating jobs, industry and dollars for both sides of the river.

He said the heart of the agency is its buses.

"Buses are our heart and sometimes they give us cardiac arrest," he said jokingly.

Locke said the agency's Transit System operates 1,140 buses with 2,182 employees, with 400 of them from Illinois. The system has 1,400 bus drivers and 400 mechanics, in addition to 300 non-union personnel which includes clerks, secretaries, supervisors and . . .

The transportation budget is $65 million.

He noted in round figures that about $20 million came from St. Louis County, $10 million from St. Louis City, $15 million from fares, $14 million from federal and about $5 million from Illinois.

Locke emphasized that to get federal funding, the flow must generate at least matching funds dollar for dollar.

Locke noted that Illinois should be paying $7 million rather than $5 million.

He said he feels strongly that sales tax revenue should flow directly to the agency.

"We not only have to take care of today, but we must project what the areas needs will be in the year 2000," he said.

He noted that the Federal Urban Mass Transit Authority on capital improvements would pay 80 percent after the agency has the 20 percent.

Locke noted that an average bus today costs $72,000 and that a new bus being considered by MTA in Washington called a "Transbus" would cost $150,000 and that only General Motors and Grumman are making them.

The quality of the bus being manufactured today, compared to 10 to 15 years ago, is far inferior.

"Older buses could get 100,000 miles without a transmission problem; now you are lucky to get 30,000 miles. It also takes longer to make repairs," he added.

"Cost of operating the buses is climbing. Drivers make $8.35 an hour and mechanics make about $8.50. I have had to cut out all overtime work on the buses, simply because we don't have the money to pay the mechanics."

Locke said in Madison County there are 10 routes and 37 buses operated, with 6,000 people a day riding them.

In talking about St. Louis County problems, he said,

"The county wants orbit buses within the county and this is very expensive to operate, at about $2.36 a mile."

"I feel we are working out our problems with the county and the city of St. Louis, although we have not received a penny from St. Louis as of yet."

"The federal government looks at the entire St. Louis area, both sides of the river, as a region. We like to think of the river as a bridge, not a barricade."

"What we are doing is trying to provide as much service as economically feasible. The 25-cent fare is the second lowest in the country for a similar sized system. Atlanta is 15 cents and their plans are to go to 40 cent fares."

"Now is the time we must plan for the future and this means increased local funding. I predict in 18 months from now there will be far less money coming from the federal government; the future will mean more expensive and newer buses mandated by the federal government."

"I predict that in 18 months the government, on a federal level, will force free rides for the elderly, handicapped and persons seeking to find jobs."

"I also predict that in 18 months gasoline will be nearly $1 a gallon and go over that price after the next presidential election. I feel that in 18 months there will be a mass exodus from transit ridership," Locke said.

The Bi-State executive was introduced by Rotarian John E. Lee, program chairman.

Belt tightened on capital spending

A revised capital budget request for the 1979-80 fiscal year, reduced by nearly $2 million for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was reported last week to the SIU Board of Trustees.

The reduction, achieved through revised cost estimates for the proposed multi-purpose building at SIUE, trims the university's total capital budget request to $14,926,700. Formerly, the request for FY '80 had been approved by the board at $16,927,700.

The request for state funding for the multi-purpose building was reduced from $11,569,000 to $9,592,000. Construction cost estimates were reduced by $1,129,000.

Another major reduction was achieved by recommending that Student Welfare and Recreation Funds and Athletic funds totaling $1 million be used to support construction of the facility.

An additional reduction of $47,000 in architect-engineer costs is projected because of the reduction in construction costs.

A $265,000 increase in the project cost was included because funds for extension of utilities, previously requested for FY '82, have been moved to the request for FY '80.

The present targeted start-up date for the project is May 1980.

In addition to the FY '80 request reductions, the scheduled request for FY '82 is to be reduced by $610,000, university officers said. This reduction is based on lowering equipment requests by $500,000 due to the discovery that both the university requests for equipment and the architect's estimates for fixed equipment, included funds for seating and locker facilities; and $110,000 in utility extension funding has been rescheduled.

University officers said construction cost estimates were reduced by working directly with the project architect to develop cost-per-square-foot estimates specifically for the facility, based on construction costs current in August 1978.

The original estimates were developed, using Capital Development Board and Board of Higher Education guidelines, based on construction costs current in January 1978.

Sternberg, contractor; Ernest A. Karandjoff, president of the Trust and

Savings Bank; Mayor Paul Schuler; Robert Jackson, manager of the local water company office; Edward F. Reiske, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce; Glenn Thornburg, president of the water company; and Robert Greaves, vice-president and manager of the company. ## Motor fuel tax allotments

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $11,296,298 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during November, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population. Allotments to municipalities in this area included Granite City, $47,752; Madison, $8,033; Venice, $5,352.

Allocations to counties in Illinois for the month totaled $4,294,321, with Madison County receiving $162,430 of the amount. Townships and road districts in the state received a total of $3,657,176. Of the total, $44,826 was allotted such districts in Madison County.

Phi Kappa Phi to initiate

One hundred and thirty-four students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, representing all disciplines, have been invited to become members of the campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

Nancy Parker, associate professor of biological sciences at the university and president of the honor society chapter, said the students represent the top eight percent, scholastically, of the seniors in their schools.

The students who choose to accept membership in the honor society will be initiated in special ceremonies Jan. 19.

Phi Kappa Phi recognizes and encourages superior scholarship, bringing together the best scholars in all disciplines — in the belief that such encouragement stimulates others to excel.

The chapter is new to the SIUE campus, having been installed last May. George Bright, vice-president for the East Central Region of Phi Kappa Phi, officiated.

Founded in 1897 at the University of Maine, the honor society now has 203 chapters at various colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Eighteen members of the SIUE faculty who were members of Phi Kappa Phi at other educational institutions before coming to the local campus made up the petitioning group and are charter members of the new chapter.

SIUE seniors from Granite City invited to join the campus chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, listed by their major study concentrations, are:

Alice Curless, social science; Patricia Dochwat, business; Nina Failoni, education; Terry L. Hawkins, education.

Susan Marie Huber, business; Jeri Sue Johnson, fine arts and communications; Jackqueline M. Mudd, science and technology.

Joan E. Range, fine arts and communications; Toni Marie Simmers, science and technology; and Michael Ray Waldo, education.

Clean water coordinator

Jim Pendowski, 22, of Fort Smith, Ark., has been hired by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to work with elected officials and the general public in south central Illinois as part of a statewide clean water planning program.

He is one of four regional coordinators who are fostering public comment on local water pollution problems, potential solutions and planning issues.

For the past two years, Pendowski has worked with the public at the Arkansas Regional Planning Commission. As the 208 Law technical studies coordinator and 208 community planner, he provided technical and planning assistance to counties in addition to developing programs for public involvement.

Pendowski holds a bachelor of science degree in anthropology from the University of Wisconsin, and has his thesis pending for a master of regional and community planning degree at Kansas State University. He is headquartered at the Illinois EPA's regional office, 2209 W. Main St., Marion, Ill. 62959, (997-4371).

Delay license hearing

A hearing on the status of the liquor license of Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Namecki Road, which was to have been held Monday, was postponed indefinitely.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler announced Monday afternoon. Schuler noted that a hearing on the seven-day suspension imposed last week after a mob disturbance in the lounge parking lot was waived by the lounge's owner, Anthony Augustine, who agreed to accept the suspension.

The lounge reopened last night as the suspension expired.

A second hearing set for Monday to determine whether the license should be revoked or suspended for a longer period of time was "continued awaiting further developments concerning the license," Schuler said. He emphasized, "As I have previously stated as mayor and liquor commissioner of this city, I will not renew this liquor license when it expires (April 30)."

New Scout handbook

The Boy Scouts of America national office is developing a new edition of the Boy Scouts handbook.

This will be the ninth edition in the 98 years the Boy Scout program has been operative in this country.

The book will be larger than the present edition with a new cover and will be filled with material to encourage boys to stay in the program longer.

Merit Badge requirements are being taken out of the new book and will be listed in a separate book.

Scout officials anticipate the new edition will be released on or about Feb. 8, 1979.
